STILL LIVES.

We are gratified to learn that Hon. GEORGE V. LAWRENCE is not dead, as announced yesterday in all of the morning papers, and that he is not only alive but is improving and will soon be well. The fact of his still being in the land of the living and with improving health, will doubtless give his numerous friends as much gratification as the announcement of his death gave them grief and sorrow.

Unofficial returns from all the counties in the State make Cox's majority 28,287.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Max Strakosch advertises his opera troupe in Cleveland for Saturday evening next.

A late letter describing the condition of things in Arkansas, says: "There is no such thing as pauperism or distress now among the colored population, with the exception of the aged and sick, and these will soon be provided for by members of their own race, as they learn how to use their freedom. Indolence and wastefulness, particularly as regards money, is characteristic of that class of people, and it will take time to instill into their minds a proper sense of the obligations which freedom imposes."

The subscriptions, in New York, to the Five-twenty funding loan, up to Saturday, were about $25,000,000, including subscriptions at the national banks.

Van Gorder's woolen factory, in Ashtabula, was entered on last Saturday night, and about $200 worth of goods taken.

The miners at Youngstown were on a strike last week, but getting the advance they wanted, went to work again in a few days.

The Mansfield Herald says that Mr. S. H. Myers, of Shelby, recently found petroleum indications in his cistern, and that on pumping it out, oil oozed up from the bottom. A company have already made proposals to Mr. Myers for leasing the property, and propose to commence operations immediately.

About a year ago a soldier named Peter Fries, formerly from Salem, Ohio, died South from literal starvation. He became insane, and his mania was fear of poisoning, and, utterly refusing all food, he died. On the 28th of September his wife became similarly afflicted, and persistently refused all food. On the 30th she was placed in the Asylum at Newburgh, but nothing could induce her to partake of food, and on the 3d instant she died. She leaves a family of six children.

The Sandusky Register of Saturday says the steamer Island Queen brought over from Kelley's Island the day before, ten tons of grapes. There were, perhaps, not less than twenty tons of grapes shipped from that city Saturday morning, and still the picking on the Island, as we are informed, has hardly commenced.

All accounts agree that New Jersey will repudiate the Copperhead Democracy and wheel into the loyal line with Ohio and Pennsylvania in support of the Administration of President Johnson. Kilpatrick's brilliant raid through the State has confounded the enemy as much as did his march with Gen. Sherman.

The famous Jecker claim, which caused France to intervene in Mexican affairs, arose out of a loan by Jecker, a Swiss, to Miramon of $764,000 to war against Juarez. Miramon engaged to repay Jecker for this loan the enormous sum of $14,000,000. Miramon lost the cause, and then Jecker asked Juarez to pay his claim, which was refused. What would we say if the Englishmen who lent Davis money to carry on his rebellion were to ask the United States Government to pay it? Yet Jecker's claim was precisely similar, and on this impudent demand France invaded Mexico.

The letter of condolence on the death of the late President, which is to be presented by General Hashem to Mrs. Lincoln, is couched in "flowing Arabic." Its direction is preeminently oriental—the Bey having written it himself. No translation of it has yet been made into English, as it is intended to present it in its present shape, and the interpreter is to explain its character.

A shocking accident occurred on the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, on Thursday evening, near Corry. A passenger, name unknown, fell from the platform of the train approaching Corry, and the cars passed over his head and shoulders. His remains were taken to Corry for identification.

A daily mail is to be put on between Titusville and Pithole City, via Pleasantville.

The President, Directors, and principal officers of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, numbering some forty persons, are on an excursion to Rochester, Buffalo, Erie, and over the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad to Harrisburg. They were in Erie yesterday, and leave for Harrisburg this morning. They will probably be in Pittsburgh by Thursday.

12 O'CLOCK, M.

MAJOR AND BRIGADIER GENERALS TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

Great Pressure Brought to Bear to Prevent It.

The "Stars" Bound to Succumb.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, October 16.

Generals to be Reduced in Ranks.

The announcement that Gen. Grant to-day submitted to the Secretary of War a list of one hundred Major and Brigadier Generals for muster-out, will of course cause a flutter among the double and single-starred gentry now reposing on their laurels in easy positions through the country.

The Lieutenant General recommends the immediate reduction to their original positions in the regular army of most of the officers of that service now serving as Major and Brigadier Generals of volunteers. Of course the brought to bear on the Secretary to prevent this wholesale decapitation is very great, but the result is inevitable. stars, in this instance, are bound to succumb to the bars and other badges of inferior rank.

National Depositories.

The Central National Bank of Booneville, Missouri, and the First National Bank of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, have been designated as depositories of public moneys.

PHILADELPHIA.

THE TWENTY-EIGHTH TRIENNIAL CONVENTION OF THE Protestant Episcopal Church OF THE UNITED STATES.

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.—The General Convention of the Episcopal Church reassembled this morning. This is the tenth day of the session.

Rev. Dr. Wharton offered the following:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to restore to our beloved communion its old relations and brotherly affection and ecclesiastical duty, and thus to enable us to join in the great work of preaching the gospel of Christ, in a church not only apostolical, but one, in heart and in organization, throughout the whole land; and whereas it is fiting that we should set apart a specific and distinct occasion for this distinct and surpassing mercy; therefore,

Resolved, That, as a house, we respond most gratefully to the invitation of the House of Bishops, to meet for the purpose of such thanksgiving to-morrow, and will join devoutly in its services.

Mr. Brunot objected to the reception of the resolution.

The Chair stated that a similar resolution had already been adopted.

The preamble and resolution of Rev. Dr. Wharton was then accepted and placed on the record.

The Committee on Canons reported on the amendment for the purpose of removing the ambiguity of the canons in reference to the dismission of clergymen from their parishes without the consent of the ecclesiastical authority.

The Committee on Canons also reported a series of amendments in reference to the election and jurisdiction of missionary bishops.

The Committee on the Provincial System reported, recommending the following canon:

"It is hereby declared to be lawful for the dioceses now existing or hereafter to exist, within the limits of States or Commonwealths, to establish for themselves a Federal convention and council, representing such dioceses, which may deliberate and decide upon the common interests of the church within that State, and exercise any delegated powers not inconsistent with the constitution and canons of this church."

Hon. B. Ruggles moved that there should be a special meeting on Wednesday evening of this week for the purpose of considering the provincial system.

Rev. Dr. Hare moved the reference of the proposed canon to the Committee on Canons.

The report on Missionary Bishops was then made the order of the day for Tuesday.

Rev. Dr. Mason offered a report from the Committee on Typographical Errors, with resolutions that the joint committee be continued, to whom shall be submitted the proof sheets of the proposed standard Bibles as they appear from the press, after having undergone the examination of a typographical correction, who shall be guided by the edition of 1852, printed at Oxford, in England; and that the joint committee have authority to issue the Bible so printed, as the standard edition of this church, and make such arrangements for carrying out this object as they may deem advisable; provided that no pecuniary liability accrue to the convention of this church.

Rev. Dr. Higbee presented a memorial from Rev. Wm. Chancy, of the diocese of Maryland, formerly American Chaplain, that there is in Italy a large and growing party of priests and others who advocate a reform in the church of Italy, in accordance with the principles of the English Reformation, and who appeal to the American Episcopal Church for encouragement and counsel. Dr. H. moved that the memorial be referred to a special committee, appointed on Saturday, on this subject, and the committee be enlarged. The motion was adopted. The memorial, as recorded by the Secretary, showing the remarkable condition of affairs in the Italian church where the reform movement has already enlisted the active co-operation of thousands of the Italian priesthood and party.

A resolution was adopted to assemble on next Thursday evening, to pay respect to the memory of the late Bishop Potter.

A resolution was adopted referring the subject of the psalmody of the church to a committee composed of Bishops Burgess, Potter, Corer, Williams and Stevens.

The military canon was made the order of the day for Wednesday.

New York was selected as the place of meeting of the General Convention.

On motion, the Convention adjourned, to meet to-morrow at twelve o'clock, immediately after the conclusion of the general thanksgiving ceremonies for the return of peace.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

The following official returns of Tuesday's election have been received:

Clearfield County.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.
CLEARFIELD, October 13.

The official vote of this county is—Hartranft, Union, 1,307; Davis, Democrt, 2,087; Democratic majority, 780. Campbell, Union, 1,309; Linton, Democrat, 2,081; Democratic majority, 772.
S. J. R.

Beaver County.

ROCHESTER, October 16.—The following is the official vote of Beaver county: Auditor General—Hartranft, Union, 2,242; Davis, Democrat, 1,496. Union majority 746. Surveyor General—Campbell, Union, 2,244; Linton, Democrat, 1,500. Union majority 744. Union gain of nine over the Presidential election last year.

Crawford County.

MEADVILLE, October 16.—The official vote in Crawford county is as follows: Hartranft, 4,188; Davis, 2,907. A Union majority of 1,281. For Surveyor General—Campbell, 4,190; Linton, 2,922. A Union majority of 1,268.

FROM MEXICO.

Oajaca in a State of Insurrection—French Residents Expelled from Siralo—Military Schools to be Established—An Assassination—Speedy Trial and Punishment.

NEW YORK, October 16.—Intelligence has been received from the city of Mexico, by way of Vera Cruz and Havana, to the 5th inst. Lieutenant Maury, recently arrested as a Mexican citizen, has, by decrees dated the 19th of September, been appointed an honorary councilor.

The district of Oajaca is in full insurrection against the Imperial forces.

The Imperial journals acknowledge that the successes of the Juarists there are really important. There are also troubles in Siralo, whence many of the French residents have been expelled.

The Emperor has directed the establishment of an Imperial School of Public Service, designed to educate officers for the various branches of army service.

Considerable excitement has been raised in the city of Mexico by a murder, and a speedy punishment of the criminals. These men assassinated a young citizen named Julian Cassitilla. The public indignation was greatly aroused by the circumstances of the case, and the Emperor ordered that the murderers should be tried and punished by a military tribunal within forty-eight hours. This was done, and the three murderers were publicly executed.

An Excursion to the Oil Regions of Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, October 16.—A large party of gentlemen from all parts of the country will meet at Meadville, Pa., to-morrow evening, preparatory to a visit to the oil regions of the Keystone State. The eastern and western visitors leave in company, on Wednesday morning, from Meadville. Capitalists from New York and other eastern cities left on a special train to-night, over the Erie and Atlantic and Great Western railways.

The Island Lands Near Charleston to be Restored to their Original Owners—The 56th New York Volunteers.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Charleston Courier of Thursday has the following: "The efforts of Mr. John Mitchell, of this city, who has for some time been laboriously and persistently urging upon the Government the propriety of restoring the island lands to their original owners, has at last met with complete success. An order will shortly be issued making full restitution in the premises. It is expected that General Howard will visit this department to give personal direction to its execution.

The 56th regiment New York Veteran Volunteers arrived yesterday, en route to New York. This is the oldest regiment in the Department, and the last of that portion of the 18th corps sent here in January, 1863. It was organized in September, 1861, at Newbury, Orange county, New York, by Brigadier General (then Colonel) Van Wyck. There were also raised at the same time, two light batteries, afterwards known as the 7th and 8th New York Independent batteries, also two cavalry companies, afterwards attached to the 1st New York Mounted Rifles. The whole command was known as the 10th Legion.

The regiment has now forty officers and seven hundred men. It has generally been filled by volunteering, and has had about three thousand members since its first organization. Private Edward Grahaam, Co. G, 56th regiment, New York Volunteers, fell between the cars near Florence, South Carolina, on Monday night last. The cars passed over him, causing the loss of his right leg. He was brought to the city and taken to the Orphans' Home Hospital, where at last accounts he was doing well and likely to recover.

Large Number of Pardons Granted—The Rebel Gen. Imboden an Applicant—The British Capitalists at Washington—The Fenian Congress—Exciting Rumors.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Post's special says: "A large number of pardons were granted this forenoon, but to no one of prominence. The rebel General Imboden is an applicant. Stephens and Reagan are expected to-night. The latter will have an interview with the President to-morrow. Regiments of colored troops are garrisoning such forts as are not dismantled on the north side of Washington. The English capitalists are examining the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to-day. To-morrow they will visit the objects of interest in the city."

The Express special from Philadelphia, says there are about five hundred delegates present at the National Convention of Fenians, which is sitting with closed doors.

Additional delegates are constantly arriving. John O'Mahoney is presiding. Rumors of an exciting order are afloat, that a Provisional Government or Irish Directory will be urged, with authority to issue bonds and commissions to privateers. Important private advices have been received by the steamer at Farther Point.

From Toronto, Canada—Dr. Blackburn Admitted to Bail—Large Haul of Counterfeiters.

TORONTO, Canada, October 16.—Dr. Blackburn, of yellow fever notoriety, has been admitted to bail on his own recognizance, to appear when called for. His sureties were discharged.

A. N. Sickles, A. Potter, Samuel Bailey, and J. and R. Quackenbaugh are committed for trial at Belleville, for counterfeiting on a large scale. A number of persons of influence are reported as connected with them.

Amicable Relations between the Associated and Southern Press Restored.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The old relations of 1850 to 1861, between the associated press and the Southern press, have been again resumed, and there is now a daily interchange of Northern, Western and Southern news, directly from the central office in this city, with every daily journal in the United States. The recent local difficulties between the papers in New Orleans have been satisfactorily adjusted.

Fire at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, October 16.—A fire, which promises to be very destructive in its effect, has just broken out at the residence of Rev. Mr. Jones, (colored), in Farmer's alley, near the Capitol. The building is a frame house, and is surrounded by a large number of tenements of similar material, to some of which the flames have already communicated. The firemen are on the ground, and are working vigorously to subdue the conflagration.

The Iowa Election.

BURLINGTON, IOWA, October 16.—The Chairman of the State Central Committee of Iowa announces that the election returns thus far indicate Governor Stone's majority to be about 16,000. The Legislature is three-fourths Republican.

The Yacht Race—The Palmer Ahead.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., October 16, 1 P. M.—The yachts Henrietta and Palmer have just passed this point, the Palmer one minute and a quarter ahead.

The Wonders of Peru.

Hon. E. G. Squite, late minister to Nicaragua and commissioner to Peru, delivered a lecture in New York, a few evenings since, which was remarkable for its wonderful statements regarding the latter country. A charming and deeply interesting narrative was given of the perilous travel on mules over the Cordilleras, sometimes through narrow and rugged passes accommodating only beast and rider, and sometimes through gorges and over the beds of the peculiarly wild Peruvian mountain torrents. At the latitude of 11,000 feet the traveler found his hands and feet frozen, and at 15,000 feet above the sea riders sometimes fell from their horses, taken with the hemorhage induced by the rarification of the air at that great height. On the arid and bleak sand near the mountains, great yellow win-rows, the ancient tumuli or burying places met the gaze. A skeleton clothed in a wrapper of beaten gold was lately dug up from these sands. Even before the adventurer rose the stupendous barriers of the Cordilleras severe with eternal Winter, and rigorous in their solitary and barren sublimity. In these mountain ranges Mr. Squier found the weather a greater hardship than the coldest seasons of the North, and had to travel not unlike an Esquimaux.

Upon the basin lying between the Cordilleras and the Andes the lecturer devoted his fertile memory and fancy, describing a region wonderful in picturesque area, mineral resources and climate, but inhabited by a people of small wealth, thrift or knowledge, and even negligent of means to make their country productive. The basin the lecturer calculated to be over 1,000 miles long and 220 broad. Llamas, becunas here roamed the wilds, and the solemn condor soared from his mountain eyrie. Here was the second greatest fresh water lake in the world, 11,000 feet above the sea—Lake Titicaca—which contained the sacred island from which splendid Incas derived their origin and ordination, in which was the cave where Manco Capac took refuge, and where were ruins of ancient temples, some of the best preserved probably in the world. It was in reference to the source of these lakes, always supposed to be without any outlet whatever to the ocean, and seated in a country almost entirely enclosed, and strangely differing from the rest of the world, that the geographical problem existed, to which the speaker drew attention. To find the source of these lakes, and to open up Peru to active, civilization was a quest worthy of American adventure. The New World has its White Nile and Lake Ngami, and the same inducements should be held out to discovery as the Old World gives its explorers. Mr. Squier condemned the absurd idea started by Mr. Maury of making a way for emigration through the Amazon, showing that travel was impossible by this route, and even if practicable, would land the new comer in uninhabitable wilds.

STATE ITEMS.

Hon. John Cessna, Chairman of the Union Central Committee, was complimented on Saturday evening by the members of the National Union Club with a serenade, as a mark of recognition of his eminent services during the late campaign.

The Cadets of the Pennsylvania Military Academy, West Chester, Pa., were to have a dress parade in Philadelphia yesterday morning.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says: There are twenty clerkships in the Auditor General's office and the Land Department, the occupants of which may expect to be ousted by the recently elected chiefs of these departments! It is stated that there are at least ten applicants for every desk occupied by a Democrat in these offices. As Hartranft and Campbell owe their election largely to their military reputation, it is predicted that they will surround themselves in civil official life with men who stood faithfully by their side during the war that crushed the rebellion.

EMIGRATION TO MISSOURI.—The anticipations respecting the prosperity of Missouri, when relieved from the incubus of slavery, are being amply realized. Emigrants are pouring into the State in great numbers, and, as usual, capital follows labor. The mines are being reopened, railroads rebuilt, factories reorganized, and busy industry is rapidly removing the traces of the civil war. It is significant that only a small proportion of the emigration is foreign. The greater part is composed of settlers from the adjacent States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Iowa. Hundreds of wagons daily cross the Mississippi from these States, filled with hardy, intelligent men and women, and robust children, and bearing the household goods and farm implements for their new homes. Returned soldiers and their families exhibit a decided preference for Missouri, and help to swell the rising tide of emigration.

THE DEMAND FOR COTTON GOODS.—A Boston paper says that the demand for goods is so much beyond the ability of the manufacturers to supply, that one of the largest calico printing mills in New England is importing its printing cloths from England, while there are other manufacturers in Massachusetts who are importing very largely of brown sheetings, which they have stamped with their own trade-mark in Manchester.

Hon. Henry S. Foote is out in a letter in the Nashville Dispatch on the vexed question of negro suffrage, in which he says, first, that it is a matter which ought to be regulated and controlled by the respective States, and secondly, that the privilege might now be granted to all colored men who can read and write, and pay a tax on any property.

OIL INTELLIGENCE.

Production of the Venango Region.

THE LATE FIRE AT PITHOLE.

The West Virgina Oil Diggings.

OIL MATTERS ON SLIPPERYROCK.

The daily production of oil in the Venango region is now estimated at thirteen thousand barrels—twice as great as it was last spring. Of this amount Pithole creek is to be credited with six thousand barrels; Allegheny river, French and Sugar creeks with one thousand barrels; Oil creek with four thousand barrels; Cherry run and Bennehoff run with some two thousand barrels. And the yield both on Oil creek and Pithole is steadily increasing, while the Allegheny river and Tidioute regions are also doing favorably.

The loss by the late fire at the Grant well, on Pithole Creek, has been reduced to $48,000, on which there was an insurance of $30,000 on the Grant well, which covers its loss, while the remaining $18,000 is distributed between nine other companies. Great activity is manifested in repairing the damaged property, and rebuilding that which was destroyed.

Territory on West Hickory is advancing in price, owing to late strikes on that stream. A well has been struck on the Hugh Miles farm, which is yielding twenty-five barrels per day. A thirty-barrel well has also been struck on the White farm.

No one ever doubted that the Holmden Farm was prolific, but the yield claimed for it by the Pithole Record is almost equal to the entire production of the creek. It says the farm, on which Pithole City is built, is now yielding about 5,500 barrels of oil daily, which, at the present price of six dollars per barrel, produces an income in gross of $33,000. There are one hundred and forty wells down or going down on the farm, eighteen or nineteen of which are producing.

In relation to the last new strike on the Rooker Farm, No. 108, it is stated that when the sucker rods were drawn, and while the workmen were busily engaged in connecting two tanks, the oil spouted within two or three feet of the top of the derrick. Some affirm that even higher. It is impossible to say what quantity is flowing yet per day, but the present indications are universally pronounced excellent.

It is stated that a good oil well has been obtained by the Tar Kiln Oil Company, on Tar Kiln Run, about half a mile from where it empties into East Sandy. Preparations are making to pump the well, and no doubts are entertained of it proving a paying institution. Operations are vigorously going on in that locality, and more "strikes" are daily looked for.

Eagle Rock City is now the name of what was McCrea's Landing, on the Allegheny river, just above the mouth of Pithole Creek. It is soon to have a post-office, churches, theatre, and other city institutions.

West Virginia Oil Affairs.

HORSENECK, West Va., October 11.
Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

Thinking that a few facts from a "reliable contraband," who is now making a pilgrimage in this modern Mecca, which is truly a holy land, would interest your numerous readers, I shall give you the first of a series of "pencillings by the wayside," of this lately famous Bull Creek region. After a trip of twelve hours upon the neat steamer "Gleaner," which, by the way, is equal to anything in the line of comfort, and gentlemanly deportment of all the officers, it has been my lot to meet with during my many trips upon the Ohio river. I shall ever hold my trip upon this steamer Gleaner as one of the happy incidents of a lifetime. But a truce to this straying. I started out on the oil question and must stick to it. Stopping, as it may be, upon landing at Bull creek wharfboat, the attention is called to the incongruous piles of oil barrels, empty and full; old and new engines, some going to new diggins in Kentucky, and some belonging to new adventurers to this locality. As each steamer arrives at the wharfboat there can be seen the weather-beaten, care-worn adventurer, who has realized all the disappointments of "dry diggins," and is now leaving this land, which promised him so much a few short months since, a wiser and, no doubt, a poorer man. At the same time the new adventurer disembarks with no clouded brow, but with a feeling that the bow of promise is guiding him to a princely destiny, and my impression is, if he has the nerve to overcome caving stratas and money to bore a deep hole, success is certain. These essential requisites have not as yet been imported into this country. Although 'tis true several large companies have expended large working capitals to develop this country, shallow wells were bored by shallower managers, yclept fast young men, who spent most of their time and company's money several miles from the work which they were to superintend, in restaurants, billiard rooms, &c., while the mechanical prosecution of the company's work was entrusted to native labor. Is it any wonder then that this rich oil country is now producing so little oil? Well, I am astray again from my subject, a la Widow Bedott and Deacon Sniffles.

I will now take the road up to the wells, which is a very good and not hilly road up Bull creek. When about two miles from the river the first derricks are met with. They are on Johnson's farm. The company put down several wells about 400 feet. The territory is so thickly stratified with red shale, which slacks like lime when in contact with water, that the caving prevented deep boring, and although good oil indications were had, the company have sold out their engines to a New Castle, Penn. Company, who have taken them to Kentucky, to bore again for oil. At Prince's Mill, three miles from the river are several abandoned wells, from the same caving difficulties. Turning up at Prince's Mill we got on Rawson run, which leads to Horse run. On Rawson run lies a large tract of land claimed by the Bull Creek Oil Company of Philadelphia. All the wells upon this tract have been abandoned, save one, managed by a Mr. Hart, who seems to have the perseverence to overcome the caving difficulty. Seeing his solitary engine puffing away upon that 400-acre farm, surrounded by abandoned derricks, reminds one of the loneliness of "Alex. Selkirk," save in this particular, "Alex." "was monarch of all he surveyed," and his rights as the rhyme had it, "there were none to dispute," while with the Bull Creek Oil Company, their rights are disputed by the Excelsior Company, of Pittsburgh, of which R. I. Thomas is President, and Smith, Nede & Co., also of Pittsburgh. Should these parties make their claims good, of which there is some reason to believe will be done, up goes Bull Creek oil stock. Then what a pretty kettle of fish the originators will have to cook for the broad brimmed stockholders of the Quaker City! Just think of it—only two millions for dry diggings, and a disputed title. It is sad to contemplate how many brilliant hopes have been dashed to the ground upon this little four hundred acre Rawson Farm. The Delaker promised a good yield, and just as she was on the eve of realizing a reward for the operator's untiring energy, the "cave" caught his tools and blasted the hopes of a long winter of toil.

I now find myself upon the Sulphur Spring farm, upon which Mortledge & Richards are operating, but, unfortunately for them, their well is caving. This is the gloomy picture of the Bull Creek region. I shall in my next give you a brighter picture of the Horseneck Valley, with a complete history of each well.

The Slipperyrock Region.

The excitement that prevailed along Slipperyrock creek some three or four months ago, says the New Castle Gazette, has somewhat abated, and operations in a great many of the wells has been suspended. The stoppage of work, though, on these wells has not been caused through a lack of confidence in obtaining the "fluid," but is owing to the straightened financial condition of the companies or individuals that have been operating; and as soon as those wells that are now in process of drilling have become fully developed the fever along Slipperyrock creek will be greater than ever. No companies but those plentifully supplied with the "ding bats," or greenbacks, are at present doing anything; and those who have erected derricks, preparatory to drilling, are now holding back to see what the final result of their operations will be. The Powell Oil Company resumed work on one of their wells last week, which has been idle for over two months. It is down six hundred feet, with an encouraging incentive to further labor. The Wirtemburg Company, to use the words of Mr. Kirker, one of the workmen in their employ, are "knocking things endways," and have their well down two hundred feet, with every confidence of finally obtaining that which they seek. The Morris and Egbert well is still being worked, and is down very near one thousand feet. This well is considered to be a "dead beat," as there has been no "indications" of the existence of anything pertaining to an oily nature, though the proprietors are not in the least discouraged at their non-success so far, and are confident of finally making a "strike." Pumping on the "Smith & Collin's Well" (the 25 barrel concern,) was suspended last week in order to put in a new pump and walking beam, there being some defect in the old pump which rendered it unavailable against the gas. They commenced, or were to commence, pumping again last Saturday. Some "big strikes" are anticipated shortly, and we hope the anticipations may be realized.

CANADIAN GRAIN FOR ENGLAND.—A Canadian paper says that orders have been received by the Belgian for the purchase of oats and barley in Canada for the home market. This is a new feature of the grain trade, rendered necessary by the short crops this year in Europe and the United States; and, in view of the probable abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty next March, is a pleasant feature. It is estimated that the difference between the price of oats and barley in England and Canada at the present time is sufficiently large to make a trade between the two countries profitable to the Canadian producers.

WASHINGTON.

Receipts of Internal Revenue.

Grant's Interview with the President.

ARMY TO BE REDUCED TO A PEACE FOOTING.

The Trial of General Briscoe.

MAIL SERVICE IN THE SOUTH.

Statement as to its Cost Contradicted.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, October 16.

Receipts from Internal Revenue

To-day amounted to one million four hundred and seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred and nineteen dollars.

Badly Whipped.

Stonewall Jackson's Chief Quartermaster is flourishing about town as rebellious and haughty as ever. He got into a fight to-day with a Union officer, and was badly whipped.

Gen. Grant

Had a lengthy interview with the President to-day, relative to farther reduction of the army. It is understood that Mr. Johnson fully coincides in the views of the Lieutenant General, and the army will at once be reduced to a peace footing.

Pardons.

A notice has been posted on the door, at the foot of the staircase leading to the Executive apartments, announcing that "all pardons in this office will be signed as soon as possible, and sent to the State Department." The effect has been to lessen the crowd of visitors at the President's house, and the hall adjacent to the office of the Executive preserves a comparatively orderly appearance.

Sale of Government Buildings.

The Quartermaster General has ordered the sale of the Government buildings at Point Lookout, Maryland. They cost the Government nearly one hundred thousand dollars.

Gen. Grant's Probable Residence.

It is probable that Gen. Grant will take for his residence here, during the winter, the large brick building, corner of 19th and I streets, now occupied by the Freedmen's Bureau. The General and his wife inspected the building on Saturday. Should they decide on accepting it, another building will be secured for Gen. Howard's Bureau near the War Department.

The Briscoe Trial

Will probably conclude in a very few days. Counsel were informed to-day by a member of the Court that they had already introduced sufficient evidence touching Gen. Briscoe's military career; but it is expected that other General officers are yet to testify on this subject.

Medals of Honor

Are ready at the Navy Department for delivery to fifteen petty officers, for gallant and meritorious conduct while serving on the U. S. steamship Richmond, in the action in Mobile Bay, August 5, 1865.

Lieut. Col. Marston.

One of the first cases to be tried by the naval court martial which has been ordered to convene in this city on the first of November, with Vice-Admiral Farragut as President, is that of Lietenant Colonel Marston, of the Marine Corps, on various charges of unofficerlike conduct.

The 4th U. S. colored troops and the 107th N. Y. colored troops have reported to General Augur, in obedience to orders, and have been assigned to duty on the Virginia side of the river, to garrison the forts which have not been dismantled, thereby relieving a number of regular batteries.

Attorney-General Speed

Has returned to Washington, after a ten days' absence.

Treasurer F. E. Spinner,

Who has been North for the past month, has also returned.

Contradiction.

I am authorized to contradict the statement recently published, that a resumption of postal service in the South would necessitate a deficiency appropriation of $8,000,000 yearly. This is vastly beyond any estimated deficit in Southern States. The entire cost of mail transportation within the insurrectionary States for the year ending June 1, 1861, was only a little over $4,000,000, and it is not expected that amount will be hereafter paid. It certainly will not, for the coming year. The contracts, so far, have been made at a considerable reduction from old prices.

The Virginia Election.

The Richmond Times to-day, in referring to the result of the Virginia election, says: "One of the most cheering and gratifying results of the election in this State, on Thursday last, was the unanimity with which the voters of every section of the State, as well as of every shade and hue of opinion, voted to clothe the Legislature with authority to amend the Alexandria Constitution, and thus render all who have been pardoned by the President eligible to office.

THE FENIANS.

Continuance of the Excitement in England—Fenian Meetings Still Being Held—Arrests Being Daily Made—Another American Officer Arrested.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Liverpool correspondent of the London Times says: "The Fenian agitation is still rife in Liverpool, in spite of the vigilance of the police, and both drills and meetings for discussion are conducted with comparative freedom. During the present week numerous meetings have been held, which were attended not alone by men of the lower ranks, but by some persons of considerable means. At these meetings resolutions were adopted to support Fenian objects and organizations by money, and also by physical aid if necessary. The question was also discussed of the purchase of vessels and formation of an armament for privateering purposes. The idea of preying upon British commerce at sea appears to be keenly relished. A resolution to carry out an object of this kind was put and carried with enthusiastic demonstrations, and much violence and wildness of language. As a proof, however, that the resolution was not mere froth, A call was made for subscriptions, and in a very few minutes nearly two hundred pounds were laid down. With the exception of the vaporing style of talk, which might be expected on such occasions, the proceedings were orderly. The minutes were read of previous meetings, and memoranda made of the resolutions above described, by the person who acted as Secretary. It is feared, with regard to the Royal Naval Reserve, that the Fenian disaffection has spread considerably. A strong feeling is entertained in town in favor of a vigorous and prompt canvass of both the volunteer and naval reserve forces in order to discover the recreants. The Liverpool Post says: "In accordance with an order from the Government, on Monday, there was an investigation on board Her Majesty's ship Eagle, with a view to ascertaining whether there was any disaffection among the enrolled members of the Royal Naval Reserve at this port. We are glad to find the result is, that not a single case of Fenianism has been traced to the Naval Reserve men. A Fenian book came into possession of the police on Monday night. The title page of the book runs thus: "Proceedings of the First National Convention of the Fenian Brotherhood, held in Chicago, Illinois, November, 1863." Many of the names are those of officers in the Federal army."

A Cork letter says: Further arrivals from America are looked for during the next fortnight, as some five or six steamers had left New York and Boston for Cork and Liverpool, before the news of the action taken against the the brotherhood arrived out by the Persia. In addition to the police attention paid to trading steamers, gunboats and Revenue cutters are kept at sea, overhauling all sailing craft coming from the westward. The reason assigned is, that vessels have left American ports with arms, ammunition, and uniforms for the Irish Fenians, to be landed on this coast.

Another soldier from America, Colonel O'Connel, was under arrest at Cork. He was the bearer of letters of advice and command from the Fenian War Department in New York to the conspirators both in Ireland and England.

The Cork Herald, describing the search of baggage on the arrival of the steamers says: "Every species of property, the smallest article of clothing, every book, letter, and scrap of paper, however deeply deposited or closely packed in portmanteau, box, case, parcel or pocket, was opened and scrutinized by the officers, under the inspection of magistrates, the object being, of course, to detect any possible circumstance which might show the owners to be connected with the Fenian conspiracy. The search proved abortive, the only article at all objected to being a revolver, which one gentleman had with him. This weapon was retained, and all the passengers were then allowed to repack their property and proceed on shore,

Philadelphia Firemen's Procession.

An Immense Turn-Out—Appearance of the Vigilant of this City.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.

The long-talked of and impatiently waited for Firemen's Procession took place to-day, and was witnessed by nearly a million of people. It is conceded on all hands that it was the most imposing affair of the kind that has ever taken place on this continent. There were upwards of one hundred and twenty-five companies in the line, some of the companies numbering more than five hundred fully equipped members.

Among the guests of the Philadelphia Fire Department were three companies from Washington, D. C., five or six from New York, one from Boston, the Vigilant, from Pittsburgh, companies from Harrisburg, Lancaster, and Reading, Pa., from Baltimore, Newark, Jersey City, Albany, and other cities.

The Vigilant, of your city, made a fine display, and were warmly complimented on all sides for their manly bearing and soldier-like marching. They occupied a position immediately in the rear of the Good Will Fire Company, of this city, whose guests they are, in the Eleventh Division. They were preceded by six axemen and six pipemen, of their own number. The colors of Baxter's Fire Zouaves were borne in their rear, which were escorted by a guard of honor composed of one member of each company in the department.

The parade was a grand success.
R.

The Firemen's Parade in Philadelphia Yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.—There were in the line of the firemen's parade to-day one hundred and two hose carriages, fifty-seven steam engines, eleven hand engines, twelve hook and ladder carriages, and twenty-one ambulances, making a total of two hundred and three fire apparatus in the line.

Consecration of the Rev. Dr. John J. Conroy as Bishop of Albany—The Transactions of a Dishonest Jew Exposed—A Large Number of Smuggled Muskets Seized—Important Report in Regard to Prisoners for the Next Congress—The Reported Escape of Jeff. Davis—Clothing for Freedmen—Pardon Warrants—The Cholera Frightfully on the Increase—Inhabitants Deserting the Cities.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Rev. Dr. John J. Conroy was yesterday consecrated as Bishop of Albany by Archbishop McCloskey, of this city, in the Albany Cathedral, with all the solemn and imposing ceremonies of the Catholic Church usual on such occasions. Bishops Laughlin, of Brooklyn, and Dawson, of Buffalo, were the two principal assistants in the ceremony. There was present a large number of other clergymen of distinction, and the body of the edifice was crowded with auditors and spectators. The sermon was preached by Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati. The intended procession from the episcopal residence to the Cathedral, of bishops, priests and attendants, in their official robes, was prevented by a rain storm.

The Herald's Washington special says: "Several days ago, the Government received information of the seizure by the Canadian authorities of Niagara, of six hundred Spencer rifles, which were being smuggled into Canada for the use of the Fenians or other agitators in the British provinces. It has since been ascertained that these arms were purchases of one Moses, in Toronto, a Jew, formerly of Atlanta, Georgia, and one of the heaviest hardware merchants of the South, who, since his retirement into Canada, has been turning dishonest pennies by blockade running and other transactions, in connection with Yellow Fever Blackburn, Steele, Sanders, and others of that class. The last notable transaction in which Moses was concerned, and which came to the knowledge of the War Department was the stealing and smuggling into Canada of the patterns of Burden's patent horse-shoe machinery, with a view to the ultimate establishment of a horse-shoe factory at Atlanta, for the benefit of the rebel Government, but Sherman's operations spoiled that game. Next, Moses went into the Fenian pike business, and furnished large invoices of that formidable weapon to Irish republican agents. Latterly, through agents in the principal cities of the North and West, he has been purchasing serviceable firearms for the same purpose. His business has really grown to be of considerable magnitude, and inasmuch as the purchase of firearms in this country is a perfectly legitimate business, Government can do nothing to stop it.

The same special says: Among the more important reports concerning the late war that will be brought to the notice of the next Congress, is one, now in rapid process of compilation at the Headquarters of the Commissary of Prisoners. The above report will be ready in about six weeks, and will present a most accurate and remarkable resume of the captivity of the Federal and rebel soldiers, and all essential matters pertaining to their imprisonment. The report in question will show that the number of prisoners taken on both sides was fully up to half a million, and will give, in accurate numbers, the strength of the Southern armies at the time of their parolement and disbanding last spring. It will also indicate the number exchanged, enlisted on the side of the enemy, and who have died in Southern prisons.

The World's special says the sensation report that Jeff. Davis had escaped from Fortress Monroe in the disguise of a negro stevedore, and sailed for Nassau in an English steamer, is not confirmed.

The Tribune's special says the Secretary of War has ordered the Quartermasters to serve to freedmen, on requisitions approved by General Howard, Commissioner of the Bureau, all articles of Government clothing declared unfit for distribution.

The State Department yesterday received about nine hundred pardon warrants, signed by the President, which have been accumulating for some time at the White House.

The foreign mails received at the State Department bring additional details in regard to the spread of the cholera. The Consul at Constantinople, writing under date of September 18, reports that the disease has almost entirely disappeared from that city. The U. S. Consul at Port Mahon writes, under date of the 20th ult., that he has trustworthy information from Palma, up to and including the seventeenth of September. The usual population of Palma is 60,000, but on the 17th ultimo the population did not exceed 15,000. On that day 137 deaths occurred from cholera. Since then, the deaths are reported from 150 to 1600 per day. The disease at Palma appeared in a very aggravated form, and seems to baffle human skill. Reports have reached Port Mahon that the disease is spreading into the interior of Spain. Reports from the Consul at Genoa, Italy, state that but few cases of cholera have occurred there. The intelligence from our Consul at Marseilles, France, is to the effect that this terrible malady is frightfully on the increase there, and that 80,000 citizens have left that city. The deaths average between fifty and sixty per day. Huge bonfires, numbering 1,600 at a time, are burning nightly in the streets, for the purpose of purifying the atmosphere, which has had the desired effect to some extent.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has received from Illinois a specimen of loaf sugar, manufactured from the beet. The sugar is of snowy whiteness and beautifully crystalized, equaling anything produced from the sugar cane. It is claimed this beet sugar can be produced at less cost than that made from cane.

The Trial of Emerson Etheridge.

CAIRO, October 16.—In the Emerson Etheridge trial at Columbus, Kentucky, on the second day, the court met at 9 o'clock A. M. Mr. Etheridge read his plea in denial of the jurisdiction of the Commission. This document set forth the following points to wit:

1st. That he was a citizen of Tennessee, and had never been in the military or naval service either of the United States or Confederate States of America.

2d. That at the time of the alleged offences the United States was at peace with all the world.

3d. That the rebellion which had been in resistance, was then suppressed and ended, and had been officially proclaimed to be ended by the President of the United States, and by Major General Thomas, commanding this department, in a general order.

4th. That the offenses alleged were committed, if committed at all, after the dates of these proclamations and orders,

5th. That, since the first day of July, the accused has not been answerable to any military authority; but if he has been guilty of any offenses, he has been liable to trial by the civil courts and an impartial jury, but only on an indictment of the Grand Jury.

6th. The said supposed offenses, alleged in the charge, are triable alone by jury and cognizable only in the State of Tennessee.

7th. That never having been in the military or naval service of the United States, he can be only legally tried according to the laws of Tennessee,

8th. That for two years and more a Federal court has been holding regular sessions in Tennessee, and that the places where his offenses are alleged to have been committed are within one of the judicial districts of said Court.

9th. That at the time of his alleged offenses all the judicial tribunals of the State of Tennessee were in unopposed operation, and he is amenable only to them and not to this Commission, and therefore prays that he may be discharged.

To this plea of Mr. Etheridge the Judge Advocate entered a replication, setting forth that Major General Thomas, commanding, was the best judge of the extent of the authority and jurisdiction, and had the right to establish the Commission and assign to it its duties; and inasmuch as General Thomas had established the Commission, and ordered it to try Etheridge, the citizen's plea of accused ought not to be allowed. Mr. Etheridge asked leave to enter a demurrer to this replication, which was refused by the Court.

The Court was cleared for deliberation, and upon re-opening it was announced that the plea of the accused was overruled. Mr. Etheridge then filed an exception to the ruling of the Court in the matter of his request to be allowed to put in a demurrer, Latest from Mexico—Guerrilla Bands Organized—Maximilian to Visit Puebla, Orizaba, Vera Cruz, Tampico and Monterey.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Tribune's letter from the City of Mexico on the 1st, says the news from the interior and from the frontier is not as favorable to the maintenance of peace as the friends of the Empire might desire, although any resistance to the Imperial troops through part of the Juarists, is out of the question. the latter have succeeded in organizing guerrillas who are exceedingly troublesome, not only on the line bordering the Rio Grande, but also in the interior are they to be found in squads of 50 to 100, surprising the villages and getting them under contribution, destroying and pillaging and committing all sorts of depredations.

In the State of Oajaca, the famous Fiquero is keeping in a state of insurrection the population located in the mountain passes of that State. He is said to be in open communication with the recent prisoner Porfirie Diaz, and trying to make the people of that State rebel against the Emperor. Fiquero is the same General who recently sacked the city of Tehuacan and carried along $100,000 and 1,300 guns. He is now distributing money and arms among the Indians, whom he impresses and compels to participate with him in his plundering expedition. The Government has taken energetic measures to counteract the action of Fiquero and Diaz in the State of Oajaca. Troops have been immediately forwarded on points occupied by these two leaders of the bands.

Trade is exceedingly dull. The rainy season has put the roads in such miserable state, and transportation from Vera Cruz to Mexico is so high, that every branch of business is suspended.

The Emperor has announced that he will visit the cities of Puebla and Orizaba, Vera Cruz, Tampico, and Montery in the month of November next. His object is to visit the populations of these cities, hear their complaints, redress their grievances, and give them that security which generally his presence inspires. He will examine the lines of railroad now in progress, and infuse new energy and activity among the directors of the works.

The Washington Chronicle of yesterday morning publishes a decree, issued by Maximilian at Chepultepec, Mexico, September 15. It announces the opening of the empire to emigration from all parts of the world, and states that agents will be appointed and paid by the government, whose business it shall be to look after the interests of emigrants on their arrival in Mexico, and locating them in such places as shall be designated by the government. The decree also further states that emigrants are permitted to bring with them as many workingmen, or laborers, of whatever race, as they shall see proper, and then goes on to lay down rules for the government of these workingmen in their relations to their employers. Contracts shall be made between them for not less than five years nor longer than ten years. If a working man runs away from his employer, he shall be arrested and put to work on Government works until he is reclaimed by his patron.

Signor Romero, Mexican Minister, looks upon the decree as an invitation to disaffected Southerners to remove with their negroes. It is understood that the number of rebel Generals who went over into Mexico after the close of the rebellion, have been urging Maximilian to issue such a decree, representing to him that large numbers of Southern people were anxious to leave the United States. Contract business, mentioned in the decree, is simply a modified system of slavery.

The Fenian Congress.

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.—An informal meeting of the Fenian Congress was held to-day, at the Assembly Buildings. About six hundred delegates were present. The chairman delivered an address, but the Congress will not be organized for business till to-morrow. This evening an enthusiastic mass meeting was held in the large Hall of the Assembly Building, which was largely attended by ladies and gentlemen. Excellent speeches were delivered in favor of the cause by Capt. Welsh, of this city; Mr. Morrison, of Chicago, and others. Much enthusiasm was manifested. A couple of persons attempted to disturb the meeting by remarks obnoxious to the assemblage, but they were quickly hustled out of the Hall. The Congress will be in session during the week, and its proceedings will be of a highly important character. The session will be secret.

The Firemen's Parade in Philadelphia—Nearly 20,000 Firemen in Procession.

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.—The head of the firemen's procession, which started at ten A. M., did not reach the corner of Third and Chestnut streets, the place of dismissal, till six P. M., having marched nearly twenty miles. Not a scene of disorder occurred along the route. It is estiamted that nearly twenty thousand firemen were in the line of procession, which took three hours and a half to pass a given point. The guests of the Hibernia Company, including the American, of New York, were entertained by them this evening at the Corn Exchange. Yesterday afternoon the Hibernia treated their visitors to an excursion to Wissahicken and the Falls of the Schuylkill, employing forty barouches and a band of music.

From Fortress Monroe—Sale of Government Steamers.

FORTRESS MONROE, October 15.—The storm has abated, and the fleet of vessels detained by the weather proceeded to sea this morning.

A sale of Government steamers took place yesterday at Norfolk. The John Tracy brought $4,500, the Undine $3,700, and the tug Lizzie Freeman $2,500. The other tugs and sixteen launches brought good prices.

The steamers Rotary, Fairy, and C. P. Smith have been discharged from Government service.

CITY MATTERS.

A Coal Digging Machine.

On Saturday last, a new coal digging machine was exhibited in presence of a few gentlemen at the machine shop of Tomlinson & Son, Duquesne Way. It was in working order, and was in motion. The fabric which constitutes this instrument may be briefly described. It has, on one side a double engine which may be worked with compressed air or steam at pleasure. The cylinders are 10 inches in diameter with a 7⅞ inch stroke. The power thus obtained is used to drive a series of cog-wheels which communicate with smaller cogs connected with eleven pairs of augurs. These augurs are 3 feet 6 inches long, and 2¼ inches in diameter each. At the end of each augur is a drill, which tapers from a diameter of 2¼ inches to a double point. The width of the whole set of augurs is 4 feet 7 inches. When in the mine the machine rests upon a small track along which it is propelled by its own power. Above this track is a pair of trams on which the machine slides backward or forward as the augurs penetrate the rock, or are withdrawn, all the motions being performed by the machine itself, one man only being necessary to control or guide it. It the mine the machine will be worked with compressed air. The advantage of this mode of obtaining power is that no boiler is necessary, while it aids the ventilation of the mine without the disadvantage of condensation.

It is calculated that fifty per cent. of the labor now necessary to take coal out of the pit will be performed by this digging machine. Its bearing-in power will be from 5,000 to 8,000 bushels of coal in ten working hours. For this improvement the public are indebted to the energies of Messrs. Greir, Boyd, Scott, and Carnegie, and the title of the firm is Greir, Boyd & Co. The machine was to have been in operation at some point within convenient distance of Pittsburgh yesterday, where it was to be fully and fairly tested. It is to be hoped that this latest effort to bless the poor by making coal abundant will prove a success.

Court Proceedings.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judges Stowe and Brown.

The Court met yesterday morning at ten o'clock. The case of Charles Bilhartz, charged with selling liquor without license, was taken up, and the defendant found guilty. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

James Coyle, of the Eighth ward, was brought into court on a process to answer a charge of selling liquor without license. Coyle had been convicted of a similar offense at the last term, but had not been sentenced. He continued to prosecute the illegal traffic, when another charge was preferred against him. He was again found guilty, when the court sentenced him, on the former indictment, to pay a fine of $30 and costs, and on the last one to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and to undergo an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail.

John Sarber, a policeman, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Miss Martha Bell, a mulatto. The prosecutrix testified that in August last, while "Blind Tom" was performing in Masonic Hall, she visited the entertainment and was shown to a front seat by an usher. Officer Sarber afterwards went to her and ordered her to take a seat in the rear of the Hall, which she refused to do, when he forcibly ejected her from the seat. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

Robert Tipping plead guilty to the larceny of a promissary note from George Booth, in September last, and was remanded for sentence.

George Myers, alias Miller, a resident of Sewickley Township, was arraigned on a charge of affiliation, on oath of Miss M. Hutchison. The defendant plead guilty before the case went to the jury. He was afterward tried on a charge of adultry, found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for one year.

Thomas Sinclair was convicted on a charge of assault and battery, and sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

Daniel Mayhugh was tried on a charge of larceny, and acquitted.

Before the adjournment of the Court, Judge Stowe alluded to the large number of jurors who failed to answer to their names, and requested Mr. Petty the Clerk, to make out a list of the defaulters. Their cases will be attended to this morning.

The Accident on the Fort Wayne Road.

Yesterday morning, the COMMERCIAL gave a very brief statement relative to an accident on the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad on Sunday morning. Our reporter gave the information as correctly as he could from the facts as stated to him. Since its appearance, we have received the following telegram on the subject:

MASSILON, October 16.

Your report of the collision near Massilon, in this morning's COMMERCIAL, is greatly exaggerated. There were but three persons injured, only one of whom was seriously so, and he is not dangerously hurt. No one killed, and the engines will be in good order before long.
MASSILON OFFICE.

Since receiving the foregoing, we have conversed with a gentleman who was on the spot and saw the wreck. He informs us that the rebound from the collision was so great that one of the tenders was subsequently found standing between the two locomotives while three or four of the freight cars were a total wreck.

It is proper to say just here that in all cases where accidents take place on railroads, the public are more or less interested, hence the efforts made by newspaper reporters to obtain all the facts they can relative to them. If correct information is absolutely refused by the railroad companies or their officials, they are responsible, and not the journals which may innocently fall into mistake. The people have as much right to know all the facts at the earliest moment, as if they waited for the latest tidings from a foundered ship at sea. If the various railroads would obtain early information relative to all, the least as well as the greatest, accidents occurring on their roads, and bulletin the same at a conspicuous place at their depots, they would grow in the public confidence, and do much ofttimes to allay the anxiety of friends and relatives of persons who are traveling. This much counsel, if needed, will lead to the mutual benefit of all concerned.

Gold in the Oil Regions.

An experienced Colorado miner has discovered in a spur of the Allegheny Mountains, about forty miles west of Titusville, what is said to be an extensive lode of gold bearing quartz. The Titusville Herald says: A person now residing in this city, who has had great experience in gold mining quartz in California, pronounces it to contain a very fair per centage for a surface specimen. Samples have been sent to New York for analysis, the result of which will be made known in a few days. The quartz is composed of unusually small crystals, which will be more easily pulverized than the ordinary quartz rock. This quality is of a dark yellowish cast, while the ordinary Carolina is of a reddish hue. Should the analysis prove encouraging, the most approved machineery will immediately be erected for washing the mines. The discoverer does not propose to put it into a company, but will work it as tdf. As yet nothing definite has been ascertained the probable amount of the yield.

THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY FAIR.

Arrangements Completed—Floral and Artists' Hall Finished—Pumps Working—Entries Being Made—List of Committees on Adjudication.

The arrangements for the holding of the Annual Fair of the Allegheny County Agricultural Society are now completed. Floral and Artists' Hall was finished yesterday, and is now ready to receive the articles which are to be exhibited therein. Yesterday, many persons intending to exhibit inventions, specimens of art, cattle, sheep and horses, entered their names and the names of articles at the office of the Society, in the store of J. R. Reed, Jeweller, Fifth street. From present appearances there will be a very fine show of articles and animals, and very spirited competition. To-day, entries will be made at the office on the ground, at Iron City Park, when it is expected there will be a large addition to those already on the lists. Below we give a list of the various committees of adjudication for the respective classes.

Class No. 1, heavy draft horses; class No. 2, horses for general purposes; class No. 3, light draft and saddle horses; class No. 4, jacks, jennets, and mules.

Committee—Captain Charles W. Batchelor, Major William Graham, Jr., Robert Stewart, J. G. Murray, John Espie, B. V. McVey, Jas. Verner, John Thompson.

Class No. 5, cattle, Shorthorns; class No. 6, Alderneys; class No. 7, Devon, Hereford, Ayrshire, Kerry, Holstein, &c.

Committee—Mansfield Brown, Matthew Hall, Robert Wilson, A. B. Burns, J. K. Bell.

Class No. 8, fat cattle, fat sheep, and working oxen; class No. 13, swine, large and small breeds.

Committee—John Earle, Hugh Richardson, George Evans, Jacob Eckert.

Class No. 9, fine-wooled sheep; class No. 10, medium-wooled sheep, (South Downs, &c.,) class No. 11, coarse-wooled sheep, (Cotswold, &c.;) class No. 12, Cashmere goats.

Committee—John G. Kelso, William L. Lee, John Wood, John Matthews, George T. Hise, Hugh Scott.

Class No. 14, poultry, &c.

Committee—Hon. R. McKnight, Dr. A. H. Gross, I. N. Coursin.

Class No. 15, flour, meal, crackers, &c.; class No. 16, grain and seeds.

Committee—Jos. Kirkpatrick, Jos. Stoner, R. L. Thompson, Wm. Gay, Isaac Mills.

Class No. 17, vegetables.

Committee—William C. Dunn, James Dixon, David Davis, Robert Cummings.

Class No. 18, fruit, wine, cider, vinegar, &c.

Committee—W. S. Bissel, A. W. Loomis, J. S. Liggett, Charles Geohring, James Old.

Class No. 19, flowers and designs—plants; class No. 20, cut flowers, &c.

Committee—Wm. Holmes, F. M. Gordon, James Wardrop, D. McKinley.

Class No. 21, domestic manufactures; class No. 22, embroidery, crochet, leather, shell and wax work, &c., &c.

Committee—Josiah King, F. H. Eaton, William R. Brown.

Class No. 23, Dry Goods, Hats, Caps, Bonnets, &c.

Committee—C. H. Love, L. Morganstern, John Thompson.

Class No. 24, Bread, Butter, Cheese, Honey, Jellies, Canned Fruits, Condiments, &c.

Committee—H. A. Weaver, James McAuley, Richard Hays.

Class No. 25, Class No. 26, Class No. 27, Agricultural Implements. Committee not yet named.

Class No. 28, Harness, Saddles, Leather, Boots, Shoes, &c.

Committee—Charles Hays, John Matthews, G. Folemsbee, James Herdman.

Class No. 29, Stoves, Grates, Hollow Ware, Tin Ware, &c.

Committee—William K. Nimick, Samuel Hartman, Jake Hill.

Class No. 30, Silver-plated ware, Cutlery, Optical Instruments, Glassware, &c.

Committee—J. B. McFadden, James Bown, Henry Higby, George Cochran, R. C. Gray, George J. Duff.

Class No. 31, brass, copper, iron, steel, nails, locks, &c.

Committee—John F. Jennings, William Tate, Jacob Reece, Edward Gregg, P. H. Laughman, Simon Drum.

Class No. 32, vehicles.

Committee—Rody Patterson, William S. Jackson, Andrew Jackman.

Class No. 33, fine arts, painting and penmanship, professional artists, amateurs. Class No. 34, fine arts, statuary, carving, &c.

Committee—C. H. Wolf, Alexander Nimick, Florence Kramer, G. W. Hailman, Robert Finney.

Class No. 35, machinery. Class No. 36, sewing machines and inventions, &c. Class No. 37, miscellaneous.

Committee—Jared M. Bush, Edmund Wansbrough, Richard Nutall, H. M. Bole, James Rees, Alexander Foster, Jr., Wm. M. Faber.

The entries up to yesterday afternoon were as follows: Agricultural implements, 122; Fine Arts, 12; Horses, 16; Cattle, 12; Sheep, of all wools, 8; Grains and Seeds, 3.

Mr. J. Frisbie, having calculated that the quantity of smoke produced in this city may be somewhat reduced, brings with him from New York, a patent grate and stove for burning coal without smoke. As this will be on exhibition in one of the departments of the Fair, it will no doubt be closely inspected.

To-morrow the gates will be thrown open to visitors, and during Wednesday, Thursday and Friday we look for a large influx of strangers in our city. We hope they may all find things as we all desire to find them, when we go visiting.

MURDER IN VERSAILLES TOWNSHIP.

One Man Killed and Two Severely Injured—Arrest of the Murderers and Their Committal to Jail—Error in the Commitments—Unsuccessful Efforts Made for their Release—Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

On Saturday night about twelve o'clock, a cruel and unprovoked murder was committed at a tavern kept by John Early, in Versailles township, three miles below Coultersville. It appears that a number of Irish laborers, who were engaged in repairing one of the locks of the Youghiogheny river, visited Early's house on Saturday night, for the purpose of having a dance. Everything passed off harmoniously, until about nine o'clock, when five coal miners named Richard Sneiden, Stewart Smith, Murray Dias, Norman Harrington, and William Ryan arrived at the house and insisted upon entering. As they had not been invited, they were refused admission, whereupon a fight ensued, but the matter was finally compromised, and the miners admitted. No further difficulty occurred until twelve o'clock, when the musicians stopped playing, and were putting their instruments away, when the miners demanded more music. The musicians consented to play for another set, and at its conclusion rose to leave. A general row then ensued, during which one of the musicians named Cornelius Braistien, was stabbed in the breast by Richard Sneiden, the knife penetrating downwards and entering the heart, causing death in about two minutes. Another of the musicians named Munday, was stabbed below the shoulder-blade, near the spine, and also in the breast. His injuries are severe and will probably prove fatal. A man named John Gilkie, who interfered to save Munday, was severely beaten about the face and head. The ruffians then fled and endeavored to escape arrest. Mr. Wm. Adams, constable of the borough of Tarentum, who happened to be in the vicinity, on a visit to his father, followed them, and succeeded in arresting Sneidan, Dias and Ryan on Sunday morning, about seven miles from where the tragedy occurred. Smith gave himself up to the officer, alleging that he had nothing to do with the murder. Harrington is still at large. The parties, with the exception of Smith, are young men, apparently from twenty to twenty-two years of age. Mr. Adams accompanied them to their homes on Sunday, where they bid adieu to their friends, and were afterwards taken to McKeesport and locked up. Smith is thirty-two years old, and is married, but has not been living with his wife for some time.

Joseph Wampler, Esq., Justice of the Peace of McKeesport, held an inquest on Sunday on the body of Cornelius Braistien, the murdered man, when the jury returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to his death from a wound inflicted by a knife in the hands of Richard Sneiden, aided and abetted by Stewart Smith, Murray Dias, Norman Harrington, and Wm. Ryan."

Yesterday morning Smith, Sneidan, Dias and Ryan were brought to this city by officer Adams and lodged in jail on a commitment issued by Justice James M. Love, Justice of the Peace of Versailles township, to answer a charge of murder. During the afternoon they were brought into Court, and a motion made by Wm. M. Moffit, Esq., their counsel, to have them discharged from custody, owing to an error in the commitment, that document failing to give the name of the murdered man or the name of the prosecutor. Judge Stone decided that the commitment was defective, and made the following order: "And now, Oct. 16, 1865, upon hearing, the prisoners within named are discharged from prison on within commitment, for defects upon its face, and it is ordered that they be held for further hearing on Wednesday next at nine o'clock, A. M., to which time they are remanded to the custody of the Warden of the County Jail on a charge of murder."

Justice Wampler, of McKeesport, who was in the city, visited the Mayor's office yesterday evening, and made an information against the parties for murder, when commitments were lodged against them. This action on the part of Mr. Wampler relieves Mr. Love from the necessity of correcting the commitments issued by him.

This unprovoked murder has excited considerable excitement in Versailles township, but no effort was made by the citizens to take the law into their own hands. Officer Adams deserves great credit for the energy and promptness he displayed in making the arrests.

Braistier, the murdered man, and Munday, who was severely injured, formerly resided in this city, and bore the reputation of being peaceable men. The house at which the affray occurred is a low doggery, and the villainous mixtures which are sold at the bar, and which were freely drank by the party, were doubtless the cause of this terrible tragedy.

CHURCH DISUNION.

When active hostilities in the field of war terminated by the surrender of the insurgent army, measures for the pacification of the country and for the restoration of order and amity were immediately inaugurated by the United States Government. These have been characterized by a degree of clemency that has secured the admiration as well as excited the astonishment of the civilized world. The secular mind of the late insurrectionary States has accepted the condition of affairs, and has shown even an eagerness to embrace the Union again. The ecclesiastical organizations unhappily have shown no such disposition. Availing themselves of their exemption from constraint by the civil power, they have shown a disposition to keep up the separation which was caused by the secession, and in some instances have formally determined to do so. A case is referred to in the following item of intelligence which we clip from an exchange:

> "THE CHURCHES UNFORGIVING.—The Presbyterian Synod of Virginia, in session at Lynchburg, Va., on Saturday last unanimously adopted resolutions in favor of maintaining a separate church organization in Virginia."

The heading of this announcement may appear singular, and inappropriate, in its application to a party that is in the wrong. Forgiveness would seem appropriate in the other direction. But there is a latent philosophy in the fact, to which this head is altogether [illegible]itable. The severest and most unmanageable animosity is often indulged by the aggressive party in a quarrel. The painful sense of mortification and remorse, which does not rise to a wholesome repentance, is avenged on those who have already been causelessly injured and hence, the antipathy is increased and continued. This has given rise to a proverbial expression, as we take it to be, among the ancients—oddisse quem lasserunt, to hate one whom they have injured. The Hebrew [illegible] embraces the same philosophy, in its application to slander—"The lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it." Prov. 26, 28. A philosophical poet couches the idea in the couplet,

> "Forgiveness to the injured doth belong:
> But they ne'er pardon who have done the wrong."

It is on this principle, we fear, that the Southern churches are "unforgiving." Their course, so far as the above case is a sample, is to be regretted, as indicating a disposition to withstand peaceful overtures and tendencies, and to keep alive bad feelings, which they have had too much agency in producing. It has also an unfavorable bearing, collaterally, on the expressed political purposes of Southern men, affording ground for the suspicion that their asseverations of Union sentiments are made only through the constraint of Government power, and that if there were any ecclesiastical or other possible corner for evading the reunion, they would avail themselves of it. They are doing a wrong, therefore, not only to their Northern brethren, but also to their Southern friends, as well as to themselves and the cause of the Prince of Peace.

How much more creditable would it be, if the churches, grateful for the termination of bloody strife, and without too rigorous a scrutiny of wrongs, real or supposed, should quietly coalesce in their former relations of amity and fellowship. If there must be a sacrifice of feeling let it be mutually made, and the savor of it will be sweet as it ascends on high.

STANDING ALONE.

When a baby—the first baby, and, of course the eighth wonder of the world—for the first time and for a single moment assumes the erect posture, and, with little arms extended as balancing-pole, utters its joyous cry of exultation, the young mother screams with delight, that baby has stood alone. The news spreads from nursery to parlor, and from parlor to kitchen; it flies in every letter, for a week, till all the friends are notified of the fact, and everywhere the announcement is received with mingled wonder and joy, that baby has stood alone.

Very different is the emotion raised by contemplating one of those unhappy solitaries in society whose violent temper or dissolute life or both combined, have driven off from him companionship and sympathy, and left him, morose and miserable, standing alone. And very differently, too, do we feel when looking at one who persists in occupying a wrong and discreditable position, after those who occupied it with him have yielded to the force of wiser convictions and abandoned it for a better.

These last styles of standing alone afford a not unapt illustration of the present condition of the so called Democratic party, once so numerous, respectable and influential. In the earlier period of the war, its sympathy with the rebellion caused an exodus of large numbers of its true and worthy members, whom it has been reviling ever since. But it still had the fellowship of Southern rebels and English sympathizers to comfort it. These, however, are now failing it. The English sympathizers have become excellent friends of the restored republic—since their cotton hopes vanished. Some of the Democrats, even, have thought, with FALSTAFF, "'Sblood, 'twas time to conterfeit," in view of the threatening isolation. But the rest remain as they were—only instead of being "three black crows all on a cold stone," they are kept to themselves just standing alone.

PAYING POLITICAL TRIBUTE.

Taxing employes in Government service, to pay the expenses of political campaigns, has been prohibited in some departments. We do not know how extensive the practice has been. We presume, from all accounts, that it has prevailed widely and for a long time among all parties. The interruption is greeted by some with favor, and by others with frowns. The employes themselves will, no doubt, welcome gladly their emancipation.

Should this source of tribute be entirely closed, one good result will probably be a great diminution of the expenses connected with elections; and that would probably be accompanied by some improvements in other respects—all going to make them nearer to what they should be, a fair, intelligent and free expression of the people's choice of men for public office. If the Government set the example of reform, it will be likely to be followed in municipalities and in corporate and private establishments. What is good on a large scale, is proportionably good on a small one.

CONTRACTING THE CURRENCY.

This is the topic which is beginning to engage most seriously the views of all classes of intelligent men. And well it may, for it is of momentous importance. The problem involves the immediate financial future of our country, and it is something from which there is no escape. The Minister of Finance has declared his policy and warned the country that henceforth contraction, even to the specie standard, will be his aim and purpose, and that it is the only policy which will save the country from financial ruin.

The Financial Chronicle, in discussing the effects of lessening the volume of our paper money, says:

> "We are entering on a course of currency contraction. More than one hundred and fifty millions of compound interest legal tenders have already ceased to act as currency. The volume of our circulating medium which operates to enhance prices has been contracted to this extent.
> "As more interest accumulates on them the whole of the compound interest notes will retire from use as money. In view of the disturbance in credits which must result from spasmodic movements towards inflation on the one side and from this steady, gradual movement towards a sound currency on the other, those of our readers who are trading beyond their assured means cannot be to cautious.
> "As long, however, as there is in the Sub-Treasury more than one hundred millions of dollars subject to be drawn out on demand, it is impossible that there should be any long continued stringency of money.
> "A few millions of their temporary loans, if drawn out by the banks, would soon stop any incipient panic arising from tightness or undue activity in the loan market. And when these institutions can lend at seven per cent. to their customers, they are not likely to leave their funds in the Treasury at five or six per cent."

PROPAGATION OF FISH.

The progress of civilization in this country has been very destructive to the inferior orders of the animate creation. To some extent, the destruction was unavoidable; but we have pushed it to an unnecessary and therefore wicked extent. If there was profit in animals, we have pursued, captured and killed them, for that profit, till they have been exterminated. We have imitated the policy of killing the goose that layed the golden egg daily, in order to anticipate the possession of it by a few hours, though we thereby prevent the further production of it forever. It is gratifying, therefore, to see some interest taken in the preservation and propagation of useful animals, especially of fish which, in the streams of the country, from the mountain rivulet to the broad river, are far less numerous than they were in former years. They have not only been destroyed by various and wholesale methods of capture, but their opportunities of propagation and increase have been cut off by dams and other obstructions in the rivers.

In the western part of Pennsylvania, the propagation of the brook trout might be carried on by many persons, with great profit. Where there are springs to furnish clear, cold water, and hollows in the ground for reservoirs to hold it, ponds could be made at little expense, and stocked with fish, that would afford an annual profit larger than any equal space on the farm. There is a pond, artificially stocked, near Brooklyn, that yields five thousand dollars a year for the privilege of fishing in it. A farmer, whose lands are so situated and supplied with springs as to favor it, might add greatly to his comfort and profit, by having a trout pond an acre or two in extent.

There is probably no better way to begin a fish preserve, than to commence on a moderate scale, as to extent and expectations, and to enlarge as experience may suggest, and as the increase of the stock may supply the means. The success of one in the neighborhood would ensure the rapid increase of experiments, and the country would be supplied with fresh trout as regularly and plentifully as with fresh butter. The fish increase rapidly, if they have opportunity and protection. Trout require quiet places, with gravelly bottoms, for depositing their spawn, and their young need retreats and hiding places for their safety. An overhanging bank, or a few logs or rocks, would be sufficient. Trout delight in shaded streams. The artificial pond should therefore have shrubbery and trees on its banks. The fish may be obtained, at the proper season, from our mountain streams, or by contract they may be supplied by some person in the business.

We do not pretend to go into the details of the business, we only desire to call attention to the subject, that some of our readers, who have every facility for the experiment, may undertake it for their own advantage and the public good.

THE Boston Advertiser says the "liberation of Messrs. STEPHENS and REAGAN on parole, which we recorded yesterday, is received with general satisfaction, and will unquestionably prove to be one of the wisest acts of clemency yet announced." We record this as expressing the average of New England sentiment outside the Democratic party. It is known that for some time past the President has been urged from that quarter to adopt the policy of universal amnesty—reserving for trial a limited number of leaders—as proposed by Senator WILSON. In this connection the following, which we take from the Richmond Republic, may have special significance:

> "There is a persistent report from Washington assigning to the President a benignant intention with respect to a further proclamation of general amnesty. This report emenates from sources that rarely prove fallacious or mistaken. We believe, from the character of the President, and from the frequent repetition of the report in question, that the President is meditating an extension of the general amnesty, as granted in his proclamation of the 29th of May last.
> "But this belief is coupled with another—that the extension of the amnesty depends upon and awaits the elections about to be held throughout the South. If these elections denote a loyal, conservative and conciliatory temper as actuating the great masses of the Southern people, we are confident in the belief that the large and much respected class of our citizens who are still under the ban of the law, and whose civil rights and restitution are still in suspension, will be relieved from their present unpleasant situation. In short, it is hardly an exaggeration to say that the people of the South will, at the polls, determine the character of the new amnesty which the President is credibly reported to have in contemplation."

THE FAMILY TREASURE.

The October number of this valuable Pittsburgh monthly is received. We always receive it with pleasure, as sure to furnish reading matter of sterling excellence, adapted not only for instruction, but entertainment, and suited both to the mature and to the youthful mind. It is what it professes to be—a religious and literary monthly. Its religious character is entirely reliable, but not sectarian. Its literary articles are well written, and embraces a liberal variety of subjects.

DR. MCKINNEY, is doing a good service, in his advanced life, by the publication of this work. We hope he receives the patronage which his labors deserve.

It can be obtained at two dollars a year by addressing Dr. MCKINNEY, Pittsburgh.

INTERESTING TO GRAPE GROWERS AND WINE-MAKERS.

DR. JOHN A. WARDER, the distinguished Pomologist, of Cincinnati, will attend KNOX'S Grape and Wine Exhibition, to-morrow, and on Thursday evening will deliver an address on Grape-growing and Wine-making. The place will be duly anncunced. The grape-growers and wine-makers of this region will be pleased to hear this, as it will afford a fine opportunity of learning the views of one of the most experienced Pomologists in the country.

A CORRESPONDENT writing the experiences of a tour through Georgia, asserts that there exists the universal disposition to make fair contracts with the freedmen whenever they will come to terms, and to pass laws to secure to them everything on an equality with the whites, excepting as to suffrage. The writer speaks thus of a delusion under which the blacks are laboring:

> "At present there is a widely diffused impression among the freedmen that at Christmas the Government will divide the plantations among them, and that every negro will receive forty acres of land, a home, stock and farming implements, to be taken from their late masters. No assurance to the contrary by the military authorities in the State seems able to dissipate this belief. Hundreds of them within the last week have told me as a reason why they will not make any contract beyond Christmas, that they expect to 'get a house and lot of their own' at that time."

The Chicago Tribune refers to the result of the election in Philadelphia, where a Republican majority of 6,810 was given, as a "bright example." So it is. But the Tribune omits to say that it was in Philadelphia that the Republicans, more completely than anywhere else, disencumbered themselves of the negro suffrage issue, by disavowing in every possible way, that it was in the contest. As a rule it will be found that wherever the Republicans did this they did best.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin concludes an article on the action of the Episcopal General Convention, in the case of Bishop WILMER, as follows:

> "The theory of the Convention, so far as we are able to understand it, is that of the Peace Democrats: 'Peace at any price;' and we would suggest that before the adjournment it might be well to pass a general Canon of Oblivion, which will enable the reunited Church to start out on its career entirely untrammeled by any of the precedents it is now establishing."

THE National expenses are to be reduced materially through the order of General GRANT for the speedy reduction of the army. The disbanding of a large part of the cavalry, and the dismounting of the artillery generally, will retrench a large item in horses and their subsistence. The army, even when reduced, will be between seventy-five and one hundred thousand men.

THE American Steamship Company, at Boston, have made contracts for two steamships, to be placed on the route between that city and Liverpool. The new steamers will be 325 feet long, 43 feet wide, and 27 feet deep. They will measure nearly 3,000 tons by the old rule.

The Reaction.

The "reaction" predicted by our hopeful Democrats, which was to restore them to the soft seats they occupied "in the past," don't seem to come quite as fast as they hoped. The following figures will hardly convince them that the reaction is much to their advantage. The electious of 1865, have resuleed about as follows:

Vermont, Union majority		20,000
Maine	" "	22,000
Pennsylvania,	" "	10,000
Ohio,	" "	30,000
Iowa,	" "	20,000
Kentucky, a Union gain of		34,000

New York will swell the column in November, and we hope that benighted New Jersey will take her stand on the right side. Massachusetts, Minnesota and Wisconsin will swell the list of Union majorities. The Democracy "as it is" may as well postpone the reaction, indefinitely.

Remarkable British Confession.

The London Athenæum, a journal pre-eminent in the bitterness of its hostility toward the United States during the rebellion, in a recent number contained an article, in the course of which the following paragraph occurs:

> Except the squadrons which charged at Worcester and Naseby, no army was ever set in the field like that of Sherman. Many of the rank and file were gentlemen—poets, writers, advocates, preachers, bankers, landlords; such men as would mix in London society and be members of Pall Mall clubs. Many of the cavalry rode their own mares; many of the infantry had bought their own arms. They were persons of estate, accustomed to good houses and rich living. They had friends in high places, and luxurious homes awaiting their return. Some of the best regiments of Massachusetts and the Western Statas were in the camp. And they were strong in number as in spirits; 70,000 fighting men of the best blood in America, counted after all the non-effectives had been left behind. What were they going to do? One thing was clear; they were going to defy all military rules, and at the risk of their lives to enlarge the art of war.

A NEW MINERAL.—A new mineral of lead has been discovered in Chili, containing ten per cent. of iodine. Iodine has lately become very valuable, on account of its extensive use in photography, and of the discovery by Dr. Hoffman of a new dye, having this element among its constituents. It is said that one cargo of the new mineral will represent a fortune. As a further illustration of the progress that mining adventure is making in South America, a mine of bismuth ore has recently been opened in Bolivia, about two-thirds up the highest of all the peaks of the Andes—the Iljampu Mountain. Bismuth, also, has lately increased in value, and fifteen thousand feet above the level of the ocean, only slightly beneath the line of perpetual snow, men are setting to word in order to obtain it.

THE SOLDIERS' CONVENTION AT CHICAGO.—The proposed convention of several army associations in this city will be held on the 15th of November, the anniversary of the day upon which General Sherman's army set out upon its great "march to the sea." The "Association of the Army of the Tennessee," the "Order of the White Arrow," and the "Order of the Blue Arrow" will be present, and it is also expected that Lieutenant General Grant, Major Generals Sherman, Howard, Logan, Meade, Hooker, Oglesby and other distinguished officers, will be in attendance. The occasion promises to be one of great interest.—Chicago Republican.

THE SHOE BUSINESS OF HAVERHILL.—During the last year 3,248,560 pairs boots and shoes were made in the town of Haverhill. The gross value of stock used was $2,596,260; value of boots and shoes manufactured, $4,602,787; capital invested, $704,700; about 4,000 hands were employed.

GRAPE GROWERS IN COUNCIL.

The Ohio Grape Growers' Society.

Important Meeting at Sandusky.

Address by Dr. John A. Warder.

Interesting Discussions.

Fine Display of Wines and Testers.

Special Correspondence to Pittsburgh Commercial.

SANDUSKY, O., October 13, 1865.

The Northeastern Ohio Grape Growers' Society, has just closed a meeting at this place, which was much the largest and most important meeting of the kind ever held in this country. Nearly every portion of the State was well represented, and there were many visitors in attendance from New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. The show of grapes was truly magnificent, including almost every variety grown and many new seedlings, some of which are of great promise. The principal variety grown in this region is the Catawba. It has done well. Whether it will continue to do so, or be subject to mildew and rot as at Cincinnati, remains to be seen. Already there are some symtoms of disease both on the vines and fruit, creating a little uneasiness among growers. As a precaution other varieties are being largely planted. The quantity of grapes shipped from this locality to almost every part of the country is incredible. We notice that the practice is to ship the best fruit, and use the rest for wine. This course is not calculated to develop fully the finest wine properties of the grape. Parties are now here from Cincinnati, St. Louis and other places, purchasing largely for wine purposes. The ruling price at present is 13 cents per pound.

The opening address to the Association was delivered by that Prince of Pomologists, Dr. John A. Warder, of Cincinnati, who deservedly has the reputation of being one of the most thoroughly posted, and best informed fruit growers of the country. He has an active mind—is a thorough scholar, a wide-awake man, and has gathered a world of horticultural knowledge. Such a man is invaluable to the country and ought to be employed by the Government to travel throughout the length and breadth of the land to diffuse the light of which he is possessed. He is a fluent speaker, and never fails to interest an audience in any subject he presents. I am pleased to learn he will be present at the grape and wine show of Mr. Knox, in Pittsburgh, next week, and will deliver an address to the grape-growers and wine-makers of your region. A rare treat awaits you.

The subject of the Doctor's address here was "The Propagation of Vines." He gave a very minute description of the different modes of producing wine, and presented in a strong light the great superiority of those grown in the open air. The Doctor took the very important position: "It is not safe to plant vines of such varieties as are to be grown the entire season under glass." The suggestion is worthy of very serious consideration just at this time. Several of the new and leading kinds have dropped their leaves badly in out-door propagation the present season, and consequently have not matured their wood thoroughly. These same kinds can be grown with entire success under glass, but it is certainly not the best policy to plant them largely till they have proved themselves to be free from disease in out-door culture.

The discussion on varieties of grapes elicited much valuable information. Owing to the fact that the Catawba was more generally planted than any other variety, it was the first in order. No one seemed disposed to abandon it. It gives strong symptoms of disease just now, but the past season has been unusually trying, and the general hope was expressed that it would entirely regain its former health and vigor. The Delaware was spoken of in the highest terms, and good results are confidently expected from it, though it, too, has not been entirely exempt from mildew this season. The Concord has many staunch friends in this and other localities, represented in the association. Its remarkable health and vigor, and abundant yield of superior fruit, notwithstanding the unfavorable influences of the past season, have won for it golden opinions. What seemed to astonish most of the members of the Association was its superior wine qualities. It was not claimed for this grape at first that it would make a desirable wine. But it is developing itself as one of the best wine grapes of the country. The would-be grape patriarch on the Hudson, a few years ago, made a most foolish and ruffianly attack on some gentlemen, who certainly knew as much on the subject as he did, because they dared to hint the Concord would make good wine. He now has the mortification of seeing this variety growing more rapidly in favor, both for the table and wine, than any other, though he was vain enough to suppose that his edict against it would sink it into oblivion.

Mr. Mottier, of Cincinnati, who is regarded as the wine king of the country, though at first prejudiced against the Concord, now says: "After due trial, I pronounced the Concord a good wine grape, and I intend to plant ten acres of it the coming season." By way of parenthesis, I take pleasure is saying Mr. Mottier is about to become a citizen of Pennsylvania. He has selected a position at North East, on Lake Erie, and intends going into grape growing and wine making more largely than ever. I congratulate Pennsylvania on so valuable an acquisition.

The Hartford Prolific and Crenling grapes were highly spoken of. Among the newer varieties, Iona received most attention. All admitted it to be a grape of good quality, equal to the best Catawba. If it proves to be as early as is claimed, and free from disease, it will certainly be a most valuable grape. Many spoke encouragingly of it. The objections against planting it extensively at present were seed. It is not sufficiently tested. The branches are not as compact as is desirable. There is no evidence of its being productive, and it has this season shown signs of disease. Time must determine its merits.

Among the wines exhibited of superior quality, were: Delaware, Catawba, Concord, Diana, Ives, Cape, Norton's, Virginia, Crenling and Meyer's Seedling. As the Concord and Crenling had not been previously generally tested by the members present, quite an anxiety was manifested to try them. All were surprised and delighted with their great excellence. The Committee was composed of some of the best judges of wine in the country. They were unanimous in the opinion that they never before had tested so superior a collection of native wines.

We are confident that the results of this meeting will do much towards advancing the interests of grape growing in our country.

POMONO.

Treatment of Cholera in Turkey.

The American missionaries in Constantinople have been successfully employed in treating cases of cholera and cholerine, during the progress of that fearful epidemic in that city. Of some four hundred cases under their care, the mortality did not exceed five per cent. of the whole number, and it is remarked that most of them were treated under very unfavorable circumstances, in the almost inconceivably filthy and crowded rooms of the Khans, and in several cases the patient was already in a dying state when first seen. The general course of treatment adopted has been as follows: In the first stages of the disease, before the collapsed state, it has been their sole object to control the purging and vomiting. In every case where these symptoms have been overcome, recovery has followed. The application of strong mustard plasters to the abdomen has never been neglected in any case, and where the disease has made much progress, the mustard has been mixed with vinegar instead of water. To check the diarrhea, the Rev. Dr. Hamlin's cholera mixture has been used, viz: a mixture of equal parts of laudanum, tincture of rhubarb and spirits of camphor. The initial dose is 30 drops for an adult, but in case of real cholera the first dose may be 60 drops, to be increased, say ten drops, after each discharge, up to 100 or even 125 drops, and to be continued in small and decreasing doses every three or four hours, for 24 hours after the cessation of the discharges. It is to be remembered that no danger exists from the medicine until it controls the discharges.

In cases of vomiting, they have used a mixture given to Dr. Hamlin by a physician of great experience in the treatment of cholera, consisting of equal parts of laudanum, tincture of capsicum, tincture of ginger, and tincture of cardamon seeds. Initial doses 30 to 40 drops, but in severe and obstinate cases of vomiting, a tea-spoonful may be given mixed with two tea-spoonsful of brandy and a little water. This mixture is also useful in certain cases of checking the diarrhea, and may be given in the same dose as the first mixture. In certain cases, where these mixtures have failed to stop the evacuations, they have been exchanged for prepared chalk (creta preparata,) say 15 or 20 grains of chalk with 10 drops of laudanum, and 10 drops spirits of champhor, administered after each evacuation, and continued once in four hours for 24 hours after the cessation of the discharges. In other cases injections of one-third of a tea cup of cooked starch (cool) with 40 to 50 drops of laudanum, repeated after each evacuation, have proved more efficacious than anything else, and they should be tried in every severe case. In the collapse state there is always coldness of the extremities, often with severe cramps, sinking of the eyes, shriveling, and often discoloration of the face, with a general sinking of the whole system. For persons found in this state there is much less hope. In these cases every effort must be made to keep up the circulation of the blood, with mustard plasters on the abdomen, feet, calves of the legs and back of the neck. Baths of hot water, or hot brick should surround the patient, and brandy has been used in frequent cases as a stimulant with good effect. Ammonia ointment has been used on the spine, in the collapsed state, with the best effect.

When typhoid symptoms follow the subsidence of an attack of cholera, it has been found that in almost every case with a rice-water diet, and the free use of camomile tea, these symptoms would disappear of themselves in from one to five days. Small doses of sweet spirits of nitre may, however, be given, and in some cases small doses of calomel and opium have been found necessary to the restoration of health. When the patient is left very weak, quinine or gentium may be given. Intense thirst is common in cholera cases. For this gum arabic water and chamomile tea may be given in small quantities, but the drinking of water should be carefully prevented. Great care should be taken of the diet during and after an attack of cholera. On the first day nothing should be eaten. Afterward, rice-water, arrowroot cooked with water, chamomile tea, and such things, should be chosen. The above method of treatment is not presented as a sbustitute for the aid of good physicians, who should always be called at once when they can be found, but simply as a guide to those who may be compelled by force of circumstances to act by themselves. By the timely use of powerful medicines, cholera may be prevented in ninety-eight cases out of a hundred, where instant attention is given to the first signs of diarrhea.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Memphis Argus says: "The first effort to introduce the camel into this country was in process of successful experiment when the war came and put a stop to it. One of the camels originally imported for the purpose, fell into the hands of one of General Sterling Price's captains of infantry, commanding a company from Noxubee county, Miss., who used it all through the war to carry his own and the whole company's baggage. Many a time on the march, he might have been seen swinging easily along under a little mountain of carpet sacks, cooking utensils, blankets, etc., amounting in all to at least twelve hundred pounds.

The London Times has just performed, very neatly, and with no apparent damage to itself, the trick of swallowing itself, which the bechedemer, or sea cucumber, was hitherto supposed to be alone able to accomplish. In the Times for September 27, the leading article opens with this sentence: "When the people of the Northern States elected Mr. Lincoln for the second time, they were moved by a happy impulse to choose as the second magistrate of the country Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee." The Times used to abuse Mr. Johnson as vilely as the New York World.

The murrain, which has now for several months been raging among cattle in England, has at last seized also upon sheep, which were at first exempt. No remedy has yet been discovered for this plague, which is causing consternation and distress amongst the farmers. It has been satisfactorily established now, we believe, that it was not introduced from the continent; that it is highly infectious; that it may be caught by sheep from cattle, and the reverse; that a remedy which is successful in one case will most likely fail altogether in the next; and lastly, that complete isolation will not save a herd. There have been several instances in which valuable herds, carefully isolated in extensive parks, with plenty of sound food and the best of accommodations—and at a distance from the points where the disease was raging—were attacked, with great loss.

Another of these numerous edifices of a civilized antiquity in the New World, has just turned up in California. It seems in the shape of a great stone pyramid, composed of courses from eighteen inches to nearly three feet in thickness, and five to eight feet in length. It has a level top of more than fifty feet square, though it is said to be evident from the remains that it was once completed. This pyramid differs, in some respects, from the Egyptian pyramids, being more slender or pointed, and the outer surface of the blocks being cut to an angle, that gave the structure, when new and complete, a smooth or regular surface from top to bottom.

The new hotel, which is to be erected next spring near the Central Park, by Hiram Scranton, proprietor of the New York, will be by all odds the most splendid public house in the country. It will, when finished and furnished, cost not less than $3,500,000, and surpass the Fifth Avenue as far as that hotel does those of an ordinary kind. It is to be built of white marble, and to contain about five hundred rooms, all of which will be furnished in the most sumptuous and expensive style. A number of improvements are to be introduced, one of them to be the perfumed or Persian bath, which, it is represented, will be equal to any in the East in point of luxury.

The era of snuff is over. During the last two years the practice of snuff-taking has been discontinued in Scotland to an almost incredible extent, and continues rapidly to diminish.

The property of the Holyoke Water Course Company was sold at auction last week for $350,000. The cost was $1,500,000.

Dr. Holland's life of Lincoln will be issued very shortly. The demand for it bids fair to exceed that for any book yet published in the country.

The Postoffice Department is self-sustaining, the vigorous management of Governor Dennison having for the first time in many years, brought it to that condition.

A Boston correspondent of the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat writes thus about the tomb of Daniel Webster, in Mansfield: When the son of Fletcher Webster was buried the other day, his grandfather's coffin was again opened, and his remains found in perfect preservation.

No fewer than 104,000 persons had left Marseilles up to the 20th of September, on account of the cholera. This is more than three-sevenths of the population. At Arles, where there were only 6,000 inhabitants out of 25,000 left on the 19th, there were on that day twenty-three deaths from cholera.

COAL LANDS FOR SALE.

The subscriber, at Florence, Washington county, Pa., will sell the FARM near Burgettstown, containing about 160 acres, say 100 acres cleared, with a small TENANT HOUSE and FRAME STABLE; is in a good state of cultivation. The balance is uncleared and heavily timbered. About three-fourths of the Farm is underlaid with an excellent strata of COAL, of from 5 to 6 feet in thickness, which has been opened in several places and used on the Farm. It has on it any amount of Limestone, and is well watered with never-failing Springs. It lies near the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, say within 30 or 40 rods of it, rather above the bed of the road, say about 27 miles from Pittsburgh, and about 13 from Steubenville. For particulars we would refer to WM. McCREERY, Esq., Pittsburgh, to the tenant on the farm, or the subscriber at Florence.

aug1-tf S. LIVINGSTON.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN LOTS FOR SALE.—A portion of the estates of JOHN HERRON, Esq., deceased, adjoining Fort Herron, has been laid out in lots of various sizes, from one-fourth to one and a half acres each, with wide streets (40 feet) and is now ready for sale. This property is in one of the most eligible locations around the city. The air being pure, free from the smoke and soot arising from the vast consumption of coal in the city, renders the location naturally healthy, and having extended views of the river and surrounding country, makes the property more desirable. Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. Lots will be sold singly or in numbers. The plan of lots and prices can be seen at the office of

W. C. AUGHINBAUGH, ju5-tf Attorney, NO. 87 Diamond st., Pittsburgh.

FOR SALE,

Choice Manufacturing Site,

Situate in Pitt township, Allegheny county, immediately above Reese, Graff & Dull's rolling mill, bounded and described as follows, viz: beginning at the north east corner of Pine alley and Wilson street; thence along Pine alley one hundred and sixty-eight feet; thence to the river; thence down the river to Wilson W.; thence along Wilson W. to Pine alley, the place of beginning. Being lots numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7, in block 37, Springfield plan.

A good frame building is on the lot, suitable for an office. Also, a stack, which might be used as it stands thus saving a considerable item of expense in the erection of a mill.

Also, a well of excellent water, besides being supplied with the city water.

If not sold previously, we will offer it at public sale on FRIDAY, November 3d, 1865. Sale to open at 10 A. M. Terms cash.

EDGAR, deceased, situate in the Third ward of the city of Pittsburgh, viz:

I. Fronting on Grant street, East side, between High street and Strawberry alley, beginning on High street. First, A lot, on which is an old brick house, running back to Denny alley. Second, A lot next adjoining, on which are two frame houses and other buildings, running back to Denny alley. Third. An elegant, highly finished and well appointed three story brick house, the late home of WM. M. EDGAR, with the Lot appurtenant thereto, running back about eighty feet to Denny alley and another alley. Fourth, The Lot next adjoining Northward running back eighty feet to an alley, on which is a two story frame house and other buildings. Fifth. The next adjoining Lot Northward, running back eighty feet to an alley, on which is a frame house and other buildings.

Possession of the THIRD house and lot can be given at once, upon confirmation of the sale;—of the others, on the first of April, 1866.

A triangular Lot of land, in the rear of the third lot aforesaid, fronting on Denny alley 118 42-100 feet, and bounded Northward and Westward by other alleys, twelve feet wide, forming on them a right angle, on which is a stable. Possession April 1, 1866.

ALSO, On Friday, October 27th, 1865, at 2 o'clock, P. M., at the COURT HOUSE, in the City of Pittsburgh.

III. The undivided five-sixths of Lots, numbers one, two and three, in Reis & Berger's Plan of Lots in PITT TOWNSHIP, near the Seventh ward of Pittsburgh, (see Plan Book vol. 1, page 59,) each lot fronting on Somers street twenty feet, and running back one hundred and twenty feet to a twenty-two foot alley: Lot No. 1 being about 34 feet on said alley, and bounded on the North by Coal Lane. These Lots are unimproved, and possession can be given at once on confirmation of the sale.

☞ It is probable that the heir of age, who owns the other sixth, will join in the sales. The widow will release her dower.

Plans of the Lots can be seen, and further information be given, at my office, No. 58 Grant street.

TERMS—Ten per cent on the amount of sale of each lot, to be paid at once upon the fall of the hammer—the residue of one half said amounts on confirmation of the sales, to bear interest until possession given—the other half to be paid in two equal yearly payments from dates of possession with interest, secured by bonds and morgages.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE—

The Eakin Farm, or better known as the Locust Flat Farm, situated within half a mile of the borough of Beaver, in Beaver county, Pa., will be sold on THURSDAY, the 19th of October, at 10 A. M., if not sooner sold. Above farm contains 131 acres, and two out town lots adjoining, containing 15 acres. Of above, 100 acres is cleared, the balance well timbered with white oak and locust; 80 acres in meadow; the whole in the best of cultivation, and acknowledged to be one of the best and most productive farms in the county. With good and comfortable buildings; situated convenient to churches, schools and markets; the three classical schools in Beaver and Public School upon the farm, makes it one of the most desirable in Western Pennsylvania for persons wishing to educate a family and be at home. The road leading to New Lisbon runs through the farm and divides it, so it can be sold all or separated to suit purchasers. For further particulars inquire on the premises, or of GEO. EXECUTORS' SALE—THE SUBSCRIBERS offer at private sale the following lands, in pursuance of the last will of John Kennedy, Esq., deceased, viz:

Two separate pieces of land on the south side of the Allegheny River, in Collins township, one of which contains about 18 acres, with a brick dwelling, and a barn and stable, and other out-buildings, the former residence of the decedent; the other contains about 10 acres, without buildings. Both have an extensive front on the river, and are well adapted for oil refineries, and will be sold together or separately.

Also, a tract of land in Indiana township, Allegheny county, containing 235 acres and allowance, (which will be sold together or in several parts,) lying on the east side of the Kittanning Road, about 13 miles from Pittsburgh and 8 from Sharpsburg, adjoining lands of P. Neff, McCutcheon, Cost, Myers and Geesy, having thereon a small log dwelling of two rooms, and hewed log barn. There are a number of apple and cherry trees in full bearing. About 100 acres is clear land, and the rest in good timber, chiefly white oak. The place is well supplied with springs of good water, and well adapted for a stock farm, or for cultivation. Persons wishing to purchase may apply to THOMAS B. KENNEDY, on the first named farm, or to the subscribers.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1865.

OCTOBER.

Willis Gaylord Clark thus discourses of October:

Solemn, yet beautiful to view,
 Month of my heart, thou dawnest here,
With sere and faded leaves to strew
 The summer's melancholy bier;
The moaning of the winds I hear,
 As the red sunset dies afar,
And bars of purple clouds appear,
 Obscuring every Western star.

Thou solemn month! I hear thy voice.
 It tells my soul of other days,
When but to live was to rejoice,
 When earth was lovely to my gaze.
O, visions bright! O, blessed hours;
 Where are those living raptures now?
I ask my spirit's wearied powers,
 I ask my pale and fevered brow.

Alas! for Time, and Death, and Care,
 What gloom about our way they fling,
Like clouds in autumn's gusty ear,
 The burial pageant of the spring.
The dreams that each succeeding year,
 Seemed bathed in hues of living pride,
At last, like withered leaves appear,
 And sleep in darkness, side by side.

THE Cleveland Herald takes up the remark of the New York Tribune, disparaging to General Cox, and "frees it mind" thus:

The Tribune, under its chronic sourness, should at least keep truth on its side. In all the campaigns in Ohio, no candidate has acquitted himself with more dignity, more ability, greater candor, or with greater satisfaction to the people than General Cox. The Tribune and the colored men of Oberlin, alone, are not satisfied with General Cox, and when a candidate finds himself warmly endorsed by those two, he had better look out for a thorough defeat by the people. When the whites and blacks are every way on an equality, with the blacks a little ahead the Tribune and Oberlin colored people will be content—but not till then.

SALE OF THE CINCINNATI COURSE.—The grounds and buildings of the new race course at Cincinnati have passed from the hands of Messrs. Smith, Whaley & Underwood to those of an incorporated association. The price was fifty-five thousand dollars, and the former proprietors are to have twenty thousand dollars worth of stock in the association. It is the intention of the body in question to erect large and elegant improvements. A fine and spacious club house is to be built, together with a stand like that at Saratoga, which, for size, elegance and convenience, surpasses any previously constructed in this country.

TWO APPOINTMENTS were made in the New York Custom House, a few days ago, under irregular circumstance. An incumbent came to the Collector in company with a one-legged soldier, saying that he desired to resign in favor of the man who had lost a limb in defence of the Union! The other case was that of an Inspector who resigned to go into the army. Having served his four years and honorably discharged, the man who had held the place four years came voluntarily and surrendered it to the old inspector.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS Matthews' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and Directors.

THE NEW YORK
PETROLEUM PRIZE COMPANY.

The excitement attending the development of the vast reservoirs of Petroleum in various parts of the continent of North America has never been equalled since that which followed the discovery of Gold in California, and the amount of capital invested in its production and distribution has been unprecedentedly large. In innumerable instances investments have followed in large profits; in many cases almost fabulous sums have been realized, and hundreds, nay, thousands of individuals have become suddenly rich, have passed from poverty to affluence in the twinkling of an eye, and exchanged the bitterness of want and deprivation, have reveled in the comfort, luxury and ease the possession of riches can bestow. There is scarcely an individual in the Eastern, Middle or Western States who is not familiar with these facts, and there is scarcely one who has not some friend or neighbor who has excited his envy or congratulations by "striking ile."

Numerous as these instances have been, however, and great as the amount of oil taken from the many wells now developed and constantly developing has been, it is the chances for investment are by no means exhausted, it is they are ever diminished, and everyday experience teaches that the field for enterprise is by no means limited, but that the opportunities for realizing enormous returns from small investments are quite as numerous as ever.

The plans of many of the Oil Companies in the country are illiberal in the extreme, and many of them are willing to [illegible] conducted on principles of perfect fairness, but none of them, of which we have heard, offer

CERTAIN AND IMMEDIATE RETURNS

On the investment made in them, or combine any of the

IMMENSE ADVANTAGES

Offered by the

New York Petroleum Prize Company,

Which not only secures to shareholders an interest in its

VALUABLE OIL LANDS,

Which are unsurpassed in Boston, and which from all the visible indications, promise to be as productive as any in the West, but every shareholder receives an immediate return on the sum invested, with the chance of

REALIZING 1,000 DOLLARS!

For every Dollar invested, or even larger profits.

This astounding result will be more fully appear, and its tensibility be thoroughly understood, by the perusal of the following

LIST OF PROPERTY.

The Oil Lands of the Company consist of an extensive tract of land situated six miles from Parkersburg, in Athens county, Ohio, in the neighborhood of some of the

RICHEST OIL-YIELDING LAND IN THE WORLD,

A number of flowing and pumping wells yielding the finest qualities of valuable

LUBRICATING OIL,

Worth from $20 to

SIXTY DOLLARS PER BARREL.

Upon this property it is the intention of the officers to commence sinking a well immediately, the necessary machinery being in process of construction; and it is the opinion of the COMPANY'S GEOLOGIST, as well as of the most experienced EXPERTS, that oil will be struck within a very short period from the time of commencing to sink the well.

In addition to this valuable OIL LAND, the Company is in possession of a large amount of

MISCELLANEOUS PROPERTY,

CONSISTING OF

Valuable Real Estate,	Silk Goods, Laces, Shawls
Gold and Silver Watches,	Diamonds, Jewelry,
Sewing Machines,	Chickering's Grand Pianos,
Knabe's Pianos,	Steinway & Son's Pianos,

Carriages, Buggies,	Trotting Wagons, and

AN IMMENSE STOCK

of every description of

VALUABLE AND ELEGANT GOODS,

all of which is the property of the Company and is the

EXCLUSIVE PROPERTY OF SHAREHOLDERS,

and to be

DISTRIBUTED WITHOUT PARTIALITY, or discrimination to

EVERY ONE WHO INVESTS

ONE DOLLAR, ONE DOLLAR,
ONE DOLLAR, ONE DOLLAR,

Which is

THE PAR VALUE OF EACH SHARE

This large amount of property has been contributed to the general stock of the company in order to place

WHO [illegible]

of the first position in the

MERCANTILE WORLD,

and is worth at

RETAIL PRICES,

$125,000.

By THE PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION to shareholders and the average profit realized on small prices, they calculate that a

PROFIT OF TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

will remain in the hands of the Treasurer, which sum will form

THE WORKING CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY

with which to pay for the necessary

MACHINERY,

for the purpose of developing the

VALUABLE OIL LANDS,

which will forever remain the

PROPERTY IN FEE OF THE COMPANY, and each shareholder will be entitled to his full quota of all the proceeds derived from the

PRODUCE OF THE WELLS,

or the consequent

INCREASE IN THE VALUE OF THE LANDS

as well as

ALL THE PRODUCTS OF THE SAME,

Either of

OIL, COAL, IRON, OR TIMBER.

The faith, reputation and business position of the officers of the Company are pledged to the

JUDICIOUS MANAGEMENT of the affairs of the Company, and no effort or energy will be spared to make

EARLY AND LARGE DIVIDENDS.

In the distribution of presents there will be No LOTTERY, NO CHANCE, NO GAMBLING. The plan of presentation is entirely NEW, NOVEL and ORIGINAL. Thus it will be seen that every purchaser of a share must receive an immediate return for his investment, and BESIDES HIS SHARE IN THE OIL WELLS, WILL RECEIVE A VALUABLE GIFT.

He may get a FARM. He may get a Thousand Dollar PIANO. He may get a GOLD WATCH. He may get a DIAMOND PIN. He may get a TEAM OF HORSES. He may get a HORSE AND LOT. He may get a SEWING MACHINE. He may get a thousand times more than the sum invested immediately on purchasing a share.

One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand Shares

Will be issued at ONE DOLLAR PER SHARE, the shares and prizes to be given at once to the purchaser. The sales room will be open for the inspection of the immense on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, from 9 A. M. until 10 P. M.

STOCK OF GOODS TO BE GIVEN AWAY,

THE SALE OF OIL STOCK will commence on MONDAY, OCTOBER 16, and continue thirty days.

N. B.—Ladies desirous of investing in shares will find an office in the sales room expressly for their accommodation.

The ladies and gentlemen of Pittsburgh are respectfully invited to visit the Sales room on the opening day and see, for themselves the immense advantages to be derived from investing in shares of the New York Petroleum Prize Company. oct2-6t

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S
Female Regulating PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills is the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and cannot do harm to the most delicate; certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

Dr. CHEESEMAN'S Pills was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a premature grave. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline. These Pills form the finest preparation ever put forward with immediate and persistent success. Don't be deceived. Take this advertisement to your Druggist, and tell him that you want the best and most reliable female medicine in the world, which is comprised in these Pills.

Dr. CHEESEMAN'S Pills have been a Standard Remedy for over thirty years, and are the most effectual one ever known for all complaints peculiar to females. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box—the Price One Dollar per Box or 6 Boxes for $5, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

CITY MATTERS.

THE LATE MRS. JAMES P. BARR.—The funeral services of the late Mrs. James P. Barr will be held in the Cathedral this (Tuesday) morning, at half-past nine o'clock.

THE MERCER COUNTY POISONING CASE.—The Coroner's jury to examine into the cause of the death of the three children of Willis Lewis, near Mercer, found that death was caused by poison. Mr. Lewis was discharged from custody, as there was no testimony whatever to implicate him. The better portion of the community believe him entirely innocent. It is generally believed, however, that the children, while in the woods the day previous to their death, eat some poisonous substance eventually causing death.

KNITTING BY MACHINERY.—Mr. E. P. Carpenter, the indefatigable agent for the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, has also on exhibition the Dalton Knitting Machine, one of the greatest wonders of the age. This mysterious agency for the production of stockings, gloves, scarfs, jackets, shawls, &c., &c., is to be on exhibition at the Wheeler & Wilson pagoda, at Iron City Park, during the Fair. This, together with the Sewing Machine, Button-hole-making Machine, and the Button Attaching Machine, will be sufficient to attract large numbers of visitors thither.

SAXE ON POETS AND POETRY.—Last evening, John G. Saxe, the Vermont poet, delivered the first lecture of the Tennysonian series, at Masonic Hall. He took for his subject "Poets and Poetry." As might have been expected, some cutting criticisms were made in reference to the bulk of the rhymes which are injected into public life in ephemeral weeklies, and printed under the head of "Poetry." True poetry was properly praised, and true poets vindicated. There was a large and highly appreciative audience, who frequently demonstrated their judgment by such marks of approval as the lecturer's observations were calculated to bring forth. To-night, Mr. Saxe appears again, at the same place, with a new subject—"Yankee Land," when he will describe some of the mirth provoking scenes of New England, such as skating, sleighing, love making and other luxuries of the season. We bespeak for him a good house.

PERSONAL.—The remarks in this column yesterday morning, wherein Mr. Siebeneck and Mr. Miller, the counsel for Freeke, the murderer, were referred to, were so far outside the rule prescribed for personalities in the columns of the COMMERCIAL, that we take the first moment to disclaim them. These gentlemen have a reputable standing at the bar, and it is to be presumed that they were but doing a simple duty to their client in seeking further evidence and in moving for a new trial. There was nothing in the circumstances, so far as they have come to our knowledge, at all calculated to impeach the motives of those gentlemen. Mr. S. may have been in the wrong with Mr. White, the warden of the jail, but that either he or Mr. Miller were actuated by improper motives, no one, we believe, for a moment supposes. We have reason to believe that in moving for a new trial, Mr. Miller acted not only on his sense of duty, but in accordance with suggestions he was bound to respect.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—Madame Marie Methua Scheller made her first appearance before a Pittsburgh audience last evening, and made a most favorable impression. Her rendition of the haughty "Pauline," in the "Lady of Lyons," was, in many respects, a new one to our theatrical-goers, and judging from the well-merited applause with which she was frequently greeted, the change was a pleasing one. There was such a mingling of pride and love throughout, so artistically blended, as the portraiture of the "Lady of Lyons" has never within our recollection received from any other artiste in this city, and which divided the sympathy of the audience between her and "Melnotte," the too willing tool of the discomfitted "Beauseant." To-night Madame Scheller will appear as "Marie," in the "Pearl of Savoy," one of her best characters.

OPERA HOUSE.—The "Hidden Hand" attracted a fair audience last night, and the performance of Mollie Williams as "Capitola Black" gave much satisfaction. Vincent as "Miles' Boy" was capital. The same bill is presented to-night.

MONDAY, October 16—P. M.

The local money market is very active, and the demand on our various places of discount is in many instances beyond the ability to supply, except to old customers. Rates for prime paper rule high, and first-class names are put off for the want of means. Many of our retired capitalists, who were formerly able to take all the good floating paper through the hands of street brokers and private bankers, have the great bulk of their ready means in Governments, and they are loth to break in on them, even though they are tempted daily by offers of double the rates they are receiving from such investments.

—The list at the Board this forenoon is considerably increased by the names of many of the oil companies. There were very few offers to buy. A few shares of a company which is a comparative stranger are reported in the sales, namely, the Great National at 4½; 500 shares Ross sold at 23@24c. The heaviest transaction reported was a sale of 12,000 Connellsville Railroad Bonds at 81. Other names in this class of securities are without any change in price.

—The oil share market in Philadelphia to-day was about the same as on Saturday, except Curtin, which sold up to 3. Elderado appears to be looking up since the contemplated change in the capital stock, from a million down to four hundred thousand, which is the amount actually paid in, and it never has been watered; but like other companies, in the excitement prevailing this time last year, it imagined that it could swell out to larger proportions after the style of the Dalzell, and other names which have had a sickly existence ever since.

—In New York the petroleum list was tame and prices lower, as will be seen by reference to the telegraphic report in another column.

—The Philadelphia Commercial List, noticing the calls for assessments from several of the oil companies of that city, says:

"There have been several phases in the fortunes of the companies which are devoted to the production of petroleum, or the sale of shares of stock without any hope of producing petroleum, as the case may be. By curious coincidences a large number of these concerns were at the same time doing the same thing, so that the general oil fever may be said to have been marked by certain stages requiring variations in the character of the treatment. About this time the malady has reached the crisis when "assessments" are called for. There seems to be a widespread demand for "assessments"—although in some instances it is to be noted that particular companies have thus far escaped such manifestations. Stockholders are called upon to pay so much per share "to aid in further development, to replenish the working fund," etc. Now without designing to impute universal fraud to those who issue such demands, we consider it our duty to caution our readers to look before they leap. Where an oil company has been judiciously managed, and the stockholders know it; where they have had tangible evidence of their good prospects, not in dividends declared out of the capital, but in actual production and sales of oil, a demand for an additional assessment should be received cheerfully as an honest request, and be complied with, unless good reason is known to exist to the contrary. But where the company has been for months dealing out promises where there has been no known yield of petroleum, and only hope deferred, it may be assumed that the attempt to raise new assessments is only a scheme to bleed the stockholders of a little more, so that "the officers" may for a time longer draw their salaries. Stockholders should examine these things for themselves. They should see whether their expenses for offices and officers are not entirely too great, and whether it would not be better to diminish their outgoes, by abolishing some unnecessary drains."

In Chicago, the Journal says: "Most of the banks have determined to get the largest portion of the grain now held by speculators to the seaboard, if possible, before the close of navigation, and with a view to that end have decided to call in all loans secured by grain-receipts, and not to loan any more on grain-receipts to be held here. This course is rendered necessary by the short supply of currency on hand and the prospect of an important active demand for pork packing operations which must be met. The current bank rate of interest steady at 10 ₩ cent., and reliable customers in nearly all cases are accommodated on short date paper."

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, October 17, 1865.

BUSINESS yesterday was inactive. The sudden cold spell seems to have put a check on trade generally; hence the demand for the leading articles was restricted to lots sufficient to meet the wants of the home market. The receipts of produce were not large, which fact tended to the advantage of holders. The market continues unsettled, with a moderate demand for most articles. Wheat—A good article found purchasers at good figures, the preference being given for Winter. Oats—The demand has improved, owing to light supplies. The late advance has been fully sustained, and from appearances is likely to continue. Corn was in better demand with light sales. This article was among those neglected. Barley is arriving more freely. Brewers are more inclined to take hold. Flour—Market steady, owing principally to light supplies. As usual, the largest inquiry was for the better grades. The sales were generally for local purposes. Bacon—The season for old is fast drawing to a close. The sales for some time past were at the highest figures that were ever reported in this market. This was brought about by a combination of circumstances, short supply being the one that exercised the largest influence. From present appearances, taking the present price of hogs into consideration, the rates next season cannot fail to be steep. Groceries were firm, with a steady demand for home purposes. The supply on the market is not large, which together with the unsettled state of the Eastern markets makes holders careless in regard to parting with round lots. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

RICE—Market steady, with a moderate demand for home purposes at 11¾c for Rangoon, and 12½c for South Carolina.

FLOUR—The market yesterday presented no particular change. The stock on the market is not large. Prices for some days have been uniform at, Extra Family Winter Wheat, $10 75@11 00; Spring do $10 00 per bbl. Among the sales were the following: 100 bbls Winter, $11 00; 100 do, $11 00@11 25; 100 do, $11 00 per bbl; 25 bbls $10 80@11 25. Spring Wheat Flour, 170 bbls in lots, $10 00@10 25; 75@80 bbls, $10 00@10 25. The market closed firm at those prices.

BACON.—The market was not very active yesterday. The sales were on a moderate scale. The stock on hand has been reduced down to a very limited amount. Among the sales were shoulders, 5,000 lbs at 19¾@20c; 2,000 lbs do at 20c; sides 3,000 lbs ribbed at 22½c; sugar cured hams, sales of 5 tierces prime at 35c.

LARD OIL.—The market was firm with a regular local demand. The late advance has been maintained, with sales of 35 bbls No. 1 at $2 30 ₩ gallon.

LARD—Steady but prices are unchanged. Sales of 10 bbls at 29c.

MESS PORK.—The market has undergone no change. The only business transacted was in a retail way, at $38 ₩ bbl.

APPLES—The market was moderately firm, with a steady demand for the various descriptions. We notice a fair amount of receipts; they being generally of a good quality, good prices were obtained. Among the sales were 50 barrels Ohio at $5@6 per barrel; 100 bbls Indiana winter at $6@6 50; 1 car load at $5 50, and 1 do at $6 50 per bbl.

POTATOES—The market was firm for the various descriptions. The sales were liberal of Neshannocks and Jersey Sweets. Sales of the former, viz: 175 barrels in lots, $2@3 10 per barrel; sales 1 car load at $1 per bush; 50 barrels at the same figures. Jersey Sweet—Sales of 91 barrels in lots at $4 50@4 75, and 21 do at $4 75 per barrel.

ONIONS—Were in better demand; sales 50 bbls at $3 75 ₩ bbl and 50 bushels do at $1 25 ₩ bushel.

GRAIN—The market presented no material change; the demand was principally local. Oats were held firmly; sales 250 bushels at depot at 52c, and 750 bushels from store at 55c. Corn was not very active; sales 200 bushels car at 55c. Barley steady; sales from wagon vary from $1 00 to $1 10 ₩ bushel. Wheat—Market firm, with a good demand. Sales were made at a variety of prices, ranging from $1 80 to $2 20, according to quality. The supply on the market is not large.

FISH—Sales 10 hf bbls White Fish at $9 75@10 00. The demand is improving, stimulated, no doubt, by the high prices of salt and fresh meats.

WHISKY—Was in moderate demand, with sales of 17 bbls city rectified at $2 28@2 29, and 10 do at $2 28.

HIGHWINES—Small sales of Chicago at $2 29.

FEED—We have no change to notice; sales of 5 tons middlings at $1 60 ₩ cwt.

HAY—Sales at the scales were made at a variety of prices, as per quality: 11 loads were disposed of at $13@20 for inferior to good.

PEARLS—The market was steady, but prices were unchanged; sales 5 tons at 9c.

CHEESE—Scarce, with plenty of purchasers; sales of 30 boxes Goshen at 21c; 55 do Hamburg, at 20c. Western Reserve scarce and wanted.

GRAPES—We note sales of 35 boxes Isabella and Catawba at 15c ₩ lb.

Weekly Review of the Cincinnati Provision Market.

The provision market during the first half of the past week was quite animated, and prices seemed to tend upward; but during the latter half it relapsed into a state of lethargy, and prices of all articles are lower, with but little disposition to operate on the part of buyers. The stocks in the West are light, but the high prices check consumption. Hogs for the new season are also offered lower, and the faith in short crop is fast disappearing; our best and strongest packers prefer to wait the result of prices on the opening season, than to go in now. The animal is now offered at $11 00 gross for November and first half of December, and for all December $10 75, or nett $14 00 and $13 50 for November deliveries, showing a want of confidence in later deliveries. Mess Pork has declined to $35 00, and is dull at this price. Large orders could probably be filled at a shade less, say $34 75, or perhaps $34 50 for choice city. Prime Mess can be had at $30 00@$31 00. Rumps in very light supply, and are held at $18 00 to $25 00, as to quality. Lard—The old stock is about exhausted, and the few sales made at 29c; new is offered at 25c for November and 23c for December delivery. Green meats are offered at 15, 17@18½c, delivered first half of November; but there seems to be but little disposition to operate until the time comes. Bulk meats are quiet at 18@19½c for shoulders and sides; loose. Smoked meats are also lower, and shoulders, sides and clear sides are offered at 19½c, 21½c and 24½c, packed, but buyers of round lots contend for lower figures, which have been acceded to in some cases. A large number of small orders from the South are being filled at these prices. Whisky firm at $2 26. Exports for the week were 703 tierces lard, 100 kgs do, 317 hogsheads bacon, and bulk 92 tierces, 2,110 barrels pork and 20 boxes. Freights have advanced to 70, 75, 80, and 85c, all rail to Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and Boston, and there is talk of still further advances, but I doubt if all the roads will consent to such advance. Exchange plenty and dull at ⅛ discount to par buying. Currency scarce.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, October 17, 1865.

Business in the oil way has come pretty much to a stand still, the operations for some days past being very light. As regards crude or refined, prices of the former continue to rule very high at the wells and at the mouth. In our market the dealers manifest but little disposition to operate at the present time, the market being very unsettled. The fact is, crude brokers have their hands tied, in a great measure, by the high prices prevailing throughout the oil regions. The stock in this market is very light, which operates to the advantage of holders. Most of the tank oil that was held out of the market for speculative purposes, has been disposed of. Yesterday's prices were a shade lower, ranging from 29@30c, without packages. Refined Oil was steady but not very active. Holders exhibit no anxiety to effect sales or close for future delivery. Most of them have sufficient orders on hand to last for some time yet, besides, they are waiting until the raw article becomes more settled. We consider the rates of Refined Free and Bonded as nominal and uncertain, with the advantage on the side of buyers. Tar was dull, but prices were unchanged. The same will apply to Benzole. Nobody seems anxious to invest. Below will be found the sales that were reported.

CRUDE OIL—The receipts yesterday, all told, only amounted to 609 barrels, whilst the sales were even below that figure. The market was tame. Sales of 250 barrels at 30c, without packages. Sales of 100 barrels at 29c; a decline. This would be equal to 34@35c, packages included.

REFINED OIL—Steady, but not very active. The fact is, neither party are very anxious to operate; both are looking for an advantage. Sales of 1,000 bbls "Brilliant," bonded, made on Saturday evening, at 64c, delivered in Philadelphia during December. We heard of no sales on the spot. Free—sales of 100 bbls, in a small way, at, 78@79c.

New York Petroleum Market.

NEW YORK, October 16.—Petroleum quiet and firm, at 38½c for Crude, and 62@63c for Refined in bond.

New York Boot and Shoe Market.

October 14.—The trade of the past week, though less animated, has been in almost all respects similar to the preceding one. It lacks, however, that activity by which it was characterized a few weeks ago, when a large business was done by both manufacturers and jobbers. A few dealers from the West still remain in the city, and the advent of others is delayed for a short time in the hope that a decline may soon take place in the dry goods market, which might enable them to make their purchases on easier terms. From the South we have quite a large number of dealers, and there are many goods marked for various sections awaiting transportation. The near-by trade from our own State and that of Pennsylvania is good, while the demand from the city retailers is on the increase. A few of the manufacturers are getting their orders well filled, and will consequently be enabled to get some stock ahead, from which to make immediate deliveries, when sales are effected. All the indications of the market continue to point towards a healthy and active trade in the near future.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

New York Fruit Trade.

October 14.—The demand for Raisins continues very active; and as the unsold stock is now light, the business, which is very large, (embracing over 60,000 bxs.) has been chiefly for future delivery; at the close, prices of parcels on the spot were in sellers' favor, and may be written five cents per box above those current at our last writing. Most other descriptions of fruit are in fair request at full prices. The sales are 7,800 boxes Layer and Bunch Raisins, per Blue Jacket, just arrived; 12,000 do, per Virginia, before arrival; 13,000 per Renshaw, yet to arrive, and several invoices per different vessels—say 20,000 do—also to arrive, on terms not made public; 12,000 bxs on the spot, $4 90@4 95 for Layer, mostly $4 90, and $4 80 for Bunch; 150 bbls Currants, 14½ cents; 100 cases hf bxs Sardines, 52@53; 500 do qr bxs, to arrive, 16¾@17, (gold); 150 frails Dates 15⅛; a small lot Tarragona Almonds, 35½; 15 cases Citron, 38@39, cash; and 50 bags Filberts and 400 do Tarragona Almonds, both to arrive, on private terms. Southern Pea Nuts may be quoted at $3 80@$4 10. Domestic Dried Fruits are firm. The receipts of apples are light, and prices tend upward; 100 bbls prime old State sold at 15 cents ₩ lb; peeled Peaches, 27@30; unpeeled do 15@18. Green Apples are selling at $4@$8 ₩ bbl; common Pears, $5@$7; fancy do, $12@15; and Cranberries, $10@$12 ₩ bbl.

Philadelphia Fruit Market.

October 14.—Foreign Fruit—Prices of raisins are unsettled. Sales of bunch at $5@5 25; layers at $3 50. Turkish Prunes sell at 23½@24c. Lemons $4@7 50 per box. Oranges are worth $13@14 per barrel. New Citron sells at 35@40c.

Imports of Raisins at New York from January 1st to September 30th, 1865:

	Boxes.
From Foreign Ports	351,509
Coastwise Ports	200
Total	351,709
Same time, 1864	201,704

Domestic Fruit—Green Apples are scarce and range from $5 to $7 50 per barrel. Dried Apples, 10@13c. Dried Peaches sell at 17@18c; the receipts of new peaches are small and the demand large. Dried Blackberries sell at 21@23c. Cranberries, $11@12 per barrel.

New York Wool Market.

October 14.—The market remains quiet, yet we notice rather more inquiry for Domestic Fleeces, which have sold to some extent, at previous prices. The want of water is still seriously felt in the manufacturing districts, hence the continued dullness. The market may be called firm, however, particularly for fine Wools, both Foreign and Domestic, the stock of which is reduced. The sales comprise 175,000 lb. Domestic Fleeces, mainly at 62@64 cents for State, 64@68 for Michigan, 65@67 for Wisconsin, 68@72 for Ohio, 64@65 for Illinois; a lot Black Pulled, 58; a lot fine unwashed Texas, 33; a lot Lambs Pulled, 59; 40,000 lb. California, mainly 35@37½; 91 bales Oregon 42½@43; 350 do Cape, part 40@45; 25 do. Rabat, 23, gold; 50 do. Mestiza, and 15,000 lb. Santa Fe, on private terms. By auction, 25 bales Mestiza damaged, sold at 33@37 cents; and 20 do. Cape, 33@35½, cash.

New York Seed Market.

October 14.—Clover seed is quiet; small sales have been made at 14@14½ cents. Timothy is neglected and prices are nominal. Flax continues to favor buyers; about 2,000 bushels have been taken at $2 70@2 90; and some considerable parcels to arrive at rates below those quoted; 40 tcs Cameron's City Mills clean Flax sold at $26; and 75 bbls do., $13. In Linseed we have only to notice the sale of 1,800 bags Calcutta, received via England, at $2 55, gold.

Philadelphia Seed Market.

October 14.—Seeds—The receipts and stocks of clover seed continue light, and it is in good request. Sales of 800 bushels at $7 25 to $8 50. Good quality is scarce and wanted, common is plenty and dull. In Timothy, very little doing, the season being over. We quote at $3 50@$3 62½. 500 bushels sold on private terms. Flaxseed is lower, with sales of 1,500 bushels at $3 30@3 35—closing to-day at the latter figures.

NEW YORK, October 16.

STOCKS.

Railway speculation was steady at early session of Open Board, with a moderate business. At the Stock Exchange the market was rather weak, and fell off during call, without any pressure to sell. After call, Erie rallied and the whole market was steadier, but the improved feeling was afterwards lost on the unfavorable statements of the banks. Michigan Southern, and Cleveland & Pittsburgh were sold freely. Large amounts of the latter stock are being thrown upon the market by Western operators. Ohio and Mississippi certificates are ¾c lower. The following are the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: New York Central, 99@99⅛; Erie, 91@91¼; Hudson River, 107⅛@107¼; Reading, 116; Michigan Southern, 75⅜@75½; Rock Island, 108⅜@108½; Northwestern, 31@31⅛; do preferred, 65⅛@65½; Ohio and Mississippi certificates, 28¾@29; Cumberland Coal, 45¾@46½; Quicksilver, 49@49¼.

GOLD

closed at 145⅛@145¼. There is a general confidence that prices will go up beyond the present quotations, and this checks the bears from making any contracts, while it induces short cliques to resort to every sort of means for keeping up a stringent state of the money market.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

quiet. The decline of 5-20's in London, and the possibility that the advance in the Bank of England rate of interest to 6 per cent. may compel a further decline, have produced a weakness in 5-20's, in which all other National securities sympathize. The old issue were ¼ lower. Seven-thirties, of the second series, sold at 98¼. Gold market very strong under the upward movement in the rate of interest by the Bank of England.

MONEY MARKET

Fairly active to-day at 7 per cent. on call. First class houses found no difficulty in getting capital at the legal rate, but weak borrowers had to shin a good deal before they could make their bank account good.

PETROLEUM STOCKS

Quiet to day, with sales at the following rates: Buchanan Farm, 96; Benehoff Run, 11; Cherry Run, 28; Germania, 37; Excelsior, 85; Oil Creek, 158; Manhattan, 25; Pithole Creek, 780; Webster, 112; Ivanhoe, 225; Shade River, 175; Heydrick, 165; Bradley, 140; National, 35; Oceanic, 57.

PETROLEUM.

The market rules firm at 38½@39 for crude; 61c for refined in bond; and 81@82c for refined, duty paid. In Oil Creek the market was firm, at $10 00 per barrel.

DRY GOODS.

Market firm to-day, with an upward tendency. Brown Atlantic A, 37; H, 37; fine T, 37½; fine E, 35; Atlantic Shirtings, G, 36; Shirtings, V, 31. Prints—Sprague 32; Merrimac, W, 34; D, 32½. The following dispatches have been bulletined on the Dry Goods Exchange to-day:

BOSTON—Goods are moving freely at fully last week's prices. Standard have advanced 1 cent per yard.

PHILADELPHIA—The market for cotton goods is active and very strong, with more disposition among dealers to operate. Woolen goods are also firm.

BALTIMORE—The market is unchanged. Goods firm. Cotton, 60@62c.

Philadelphia Stock Market.

[From Work, McCouch & Co., Stock and Exchange Brokers.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.—Saint Nicholas, 1½; Maple Shade, 7; Curtin, 3; Dalzell, 1⅞; Caldwall, 1⅝; McClintock, 181; Excelsior, ⅜; Oil Creek and Cherry Run, ⅞; Sugar Creek, 4⅛; Eldorado, ½; Mingo, 2 31; Junction, 1⅜.

NAVIGATION remains suspended. The metal marks indicate three feet two inches, and about at a stand. The weather was cool.

Gunboats' Names Changed.

Below we give a list of the gunboats recently purchased, and that have been repaired and remodeled, changed their names at St. Louis: Allen Collier to Imperial, De Soto to Alabama, Forest Rose to Anna White, Florence Miller No. 3 to Agnes, J. H. Baldwin to C. J. Caffrey, Sybil to Comet, Emma Duncan to Dora, Brilliant to J. S. McCune, Carrie Jacobs to Louisa, Mattie Cabler to Laura, Victory to Lizzie Tate, Lotus to M. Burns, Silver Lake No. 2 to Marian, Willie Gamage to Southern Belle, Exchange to Tennessee, and Kenwood to Cumberland.

Louisville.

October 14.—The Press says: The river was falling very slowly yesterday, with scant five and a half feet water in the channel, in the evening, by the mark. During the previous 24 hours it had fallen less than an inch at the head of the falls, and only two inches at the Portland wharf. The weather was cloudy in the morning, with a light fall of rain, with the thermometer at 65 degrees. In the evening it turned cool, with a light rain at dusk.

The Peytona, under the charge of Capt. Hugh Campbell, a thorough and very popular boatman, is undergoing many improvements and changes to fully adapt her to the Louisville and New Orleans trade. She is also having a capacious nursery and servant rooms built under the ladies' cabin.

The Montgomery Mail, of the 28th ultimo, says the steamer Ruby, en route from Mobile heavily laden with merchandise for several of the merchants, had sunk somewhere below, causing a total loss of the boat and much damage to her cargo.

We understand that the Ætna Insurance Company, previous to the Tycoon's leaving Memphis, took a risk of $30,000 on the trip—$20,000 on the boat and $10,000 on her cargo of cotton.

From Cairo.

A Cairo dispatch of the 15th states: The steamer Huntress, from Louisville, bound for New Orleans, struck the wreck of steamer Black Hawk, which lies in the channel midway between Mound City and Cairo, and sank at one o'clock this afternoon. The cargo consists of tobacco, flour, whisky, cement, and machinery, which will be saved in a damaged condition. All on board were saved. Her officers, who are owners, have entered a protest. They attach no blame to the pilots, and consider it one of the unavoidable accidents. The water at that point is lower than at any time since the destruction of the Black Hawk. The Huntress lies in a bad position, careened, and eight feet water over her stern, and three feet over her head. There are hopes of saving her.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, S. S.—AT a Court of Quarter Sessions, in and for said county, held at the city of Pittsburgh, on the 30th of September, 1865, the petition of George Sheffler and others being presented in open Court, praying the vacation of forty feet at the rear end of a certain private alley, situated in the 6th ward, city of Pittsburgh, between Wylie street and Pennsylvania avenue, and running westwardly from Chatham street one hundred feet. It is ordered by the Court that a rule be granted upon all persons interested to show cause why the portion of said alley, mentioned in said petition should not be closed up and vacated, said rule to be returnable to the first Saturday in November, 1865. From the Record. W. A. HERRON, Clerk.

All persons interested, will please take notice of the entry of the above rule. WHITE & SLAGLE,
